

April 9, 1973

Richard Huoté
Editor-in-Chief
Dell Publishing Co.
New York, N.Y. 10017

Dear Richard,

Here are the galley for Part II. You will note that I'm introducing a serious transposition in the Chapter V on Mao. It is clearly marked on the galleys, but permit me, also, to spell it out here:

1) After the quotations at the top of galley 69, the chapter should begin with the section on ~~Discontinuity and Continuity~~, which becomes section A. (galley 70). I would, however, like the subhead (1) THE SINO-SOVIET CONFLICT to stand out as an important heading, set on a line by itself, with the paragraph beginning on a new line.

The transposed section then follows in sequence through galleys 77, 78, 79 up to the end of that section, where I have deleted half a paragraph. Immediately following "rootless teenagers" return to galley 69, where the paragraph "Grasp the revolution" will follow the paragraph ending "rootless teenagers." At the end of this paragraph, I wish to transpose the subhead From Contradiction to Contradiction to Contradiction (which becomes B) and the italicized quote from galley 70. Then continue with galley 69 through 72.

2) At the top of galley 73, I wish to add a new subhead -- C. Alienation and Revolution -- which is followed by a single short paragraph. Then add a new head (1) Hong Kong Interview -- after which the copy continues, as is, through 73, 74, 75, and the top of 76.

3) Here we conclude with the section on Sheng Wu-lien (galley 79) except that this heading is now changed to be (2) and reset in all-caps-type. The galleys then continue in sequence through to the end of the chapter on galley 84.

pp.210-240

TRANSPOSITIONS IN CH.V* THE THOUGHT OF MAO-TSE TUNG

BEGIN ,instead, with end of p.229, re-numbering 2) back as 1):

1)Discontinuities and Continuities: a)The Sino-Soviet Conflict

In our age of state-capitalism, revolution and counter-revolutionall the way through b) That Crucial Year, 1965 and ~~at~~ ^{end of} p.240, "rootless teenagers"

CUT rest of that par.

RETURN to p.210

TRANSPOSITION IN CH. V--THE THOUGHT OF MAO TSE-TUNG, pp.210-2r1

BEGIN ,instead, with p.221-(Honk Kong Interview) I had the good fortune... going all the way to p.240..against "black economism",

1)footnotes 23-32 on pp.211-229
get changed to ftns 34-44

while 2)footnotes 33-44, pp.230-240
get changes to 23-32

NO FURTHER CHANGES ARE NEEDED SINCE BY THE TIME YOU RETURN TO p.241, ftn.45 they are AS IS