The Revolutionary Communist Party is the party of the proletariat and the workers, which seeks to implant Socialism in Chile as formulated by Marx and Engels, developed by Lenin and applied by Stalin, which led to the construction of the first successful workers' state, which transformed a country agrarian backward in a world power, industrial and technological, that liberated Europe from fascism and materially helped the colonial countries to their national liberation.

The origins of the RCP date back to the 1960s, when the anti-revisionist controversy broke out in the international communist movement, and the consequent communists who defended the revolutionary principles of Marxism-Leninism took place, from those bourgeois parties that joined the revisionist agreements adopted in the XX Congress of the CPSU, a party that by promoting the supposed "Peaceful Way to Socialism", denies that it abandons in the USSR the dictatorship of the proletariat, this allowed the internal reaction to grow with the help of international imperialism and it will promote its political-economic and moral decomposition and the subsequent destruction of the first peasant workers' state.

In Chile, the militants who defended Marxism-Leninism abandoned the old "Communist" and "Socialist" parties and formed the combative Spartacus group, which after its first constitutive and programmatic congress was renamed the Revolutionary Communist Party. The PCR carried out selfless activity revolutionary discussion and defense of Marxism-Leninism. Although this nationally structured party was the ideological vanguard of the conscious workers, students and peasants, facing the opportunist politicians of right and left, it was not oblivious to the errors of the left that led it to isolate themselves from the masses in the period of Popular Unity; which led to their division and subsequent disappearance in the early 1980s, due to the repression that the dictatorship unleashed against them. In 1985, some political cadres and members of the RCP regrouped and gave life to the Recabarren Communist Organization with the intention of grouping Marxist-Leninists into a true Communist Party.

After a long history of fighting against the dictatorship and revisionism of the false Communist Party, the OCR makes the decision to definitively become the party of the working class. This is how historical activists, union leaders and former members of the central committee of the old RCP, together with the OCR, founded the new Revolutionary Communist Party of Chile, with a correct political line proven through years of struggle, with a revolutionary strategy based on the principles of Marxism-Leninism, embodied in our Political Program that will allow us to lead the working class, the workers, the people and their vanguard organized in the PCR to the conquest of Power, by a Popular Government and the Popular Democratic Revolution on the way to Socialism through the mass insurrectional way.

THE ROAD OF THE REVOLUTIONARY COMMUNIST PARTY

1.- The PCR fights against large capitalist and multinational groups that exploit workers and plunder national wealth protected by imperialist powers, mainly by Yankee imperialism, he who through the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank , they impose on our people their plundering policies.

2.- The PCR struggles to transform the means of production (natural wealth, industries, companies, etc.) into social property, ending their private property, which only allows the exploitation of the working class and the impoverishment of the people.

3.- The PCR fights the Bourgeois State that guarantees the dictatorship of capital against the workers, using the armed and order forces as guardians of their interests and the bureaucracy to prevent the participation of the people in the administration of the country. It struggles to establish a new type of State in Chile, a Popular Democratic State to later move to the establishment of Socialism in Chile.

This movement must be developed from within the people to undertake the conquest of a Popular Democratic, National and Anti-imperialist Government, in which the people have an effective and real participation through their union and social organizations.

This Government, although it did not end capitalism, will tend to end the power of the large national and transnational monopolies, creating an area of social property, supporting medium and small companies to reestablish the country's economic bases that allow us to break with dependence on Yankee imperialism and achieving its own development, according to the interests of the Chilean nation, for which we need to promote economic unity with Latin American countries, as a productive unit and not just a commercial one.

This historical stage of Popular Governments will prepare the way to the Popular Democratic Revolution, which will definitively break with the power of the capitalists, establishing a new state, the Popular Democratic State, will be the expression of the Democratic Dictatorship of the Working Class in alliance with the peasantry and the small urban bourgeoisie. State organized by the same popular masses, constituting POPULAR ASSEMBLIES from the local to the national level, being under its control the Popular Democratic Government, which will be led by a Political Front made up of all the parties that are for this revolution, under the hegemony of the proletariat .

This revolution will be the first stage in the conquest of Socialism in Chile, a process that will be carried out together and simultaneously with the struggle of the Latin American countries for their liberation. Also joining the emancipatory struggle of the Chilean working class to the struggle of the international proletariat to end imperialist exploitation.

We assume this revolutionary task by building a secret and public organization that advances in the union, population and student struggle, but at the same time prepares the necessary cadres to direct the self-defense and leadership of the future popular militias that will lead the mass insurrection to establish the Democratic People's Republic of Chile.

During the bourgeois democratic period, the RCP, together with the forces of the revolutionary left, promoted the Popular Government through its mass fronts, which brought together union, social and independent workers leaders together with Party militants to carry out the social struggles and link them to the Popular Government project. These fronts will be independent organizations, but linked to the PCR through their militants who will be the link between the front and the Party.

The main task of the front will be to form unions in all companies and industries and to promote the class-oriented union movement, to win the leadership of the Central Unica de Trabajadores. Create population organizations that direct the people's demands in a revolutionary way. Win the leadership of the student centres of the municipal schools, where the children of the working class study, as well as the federations of university students and that promote the popular project. These will become the instruments that together with the RCP will conquer political power along with the revolutionary parties that adhere to the Popular Government program.

COMPANIONS, FORWARD!

THE REVOLUTION IS NECESSARY.
