MISS HALEY RAPS COOLEY

Says Last Year Normal School Graduates Are on Waiting List

While Miss Margaret Haley and others at the headquarters of the Teachers' Federation agree with Superintendent Cooley that the salaries of teachers are too low, they say there are other reasons why there is a shortage of teachers and especially in Chicago.

Among the few things Miss Haley would like to know is how many of the 135 teachers who graduated at the Chicago normal school last year were assigned in January, and why those that graduated last year have not been assigned.

REASONS FOR SHORTAGE

Other reasons why there is a shortage, not only in Chicago but throughout the country, are because teachers are required to do such foolish things and obey foolish rules.

COOLEY REDUCES SALARIES

Among other things that have happened during Cooley's administration which acted as a deterrent to the education of Chicago children, Miss Haley points out that in 1902 the salaries of 2,600 teachers were reduced, and in that year Cooley took nearly 400 teachers out of the schools.

TEDDY'S DIGNITY PREVENTS REPLY

Washington, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt will maintain his "dignified silence" on the attack made upon him by Justice Brewer of the supreme court. It has been reported that Theodore has been keeping quiet purely as a mark of respect for the old gentleman.

LEWIS LECTURE; HELP WIREMEN

An unusually big crowd will be sure to gather at the Garrick theater to hear Lewis tell "The Truth About the Panic."

CURRENCY AT 3 PER CENT; BOUGHT AND SOLD ON CURB

Chicago Papers and Wall Street Disagree About Local Condition; Railroad Reports Show Heavy Traffic Decline

As was predicted in these columns at the time the clearing house certificates were issued, they have caused the premium on currency to again rise. It was at between 2 1/2 and 3 per cent premium in New York today, and that city was treated to the sight of seeing money bought and sold upon the curb market regularly all day for the first time in years.

When Figures Disagree In Chicago the local papers announced that the issue of scrip money amounted to but $4,615,000, but the Chicago correspondent of the Wall Street Journal states that $7,000,000 had been issued up to Wednesday night, and that it is expected that between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 will be issued.

RETRACTION CONTINUES

From every portion of the country comes news of ever-increasing restriction of industry, of the closing of orders and reduction of force.

HOW THEY JUGGLE DOLLARS

The New York banks have worked out the plan by which they will take the new certificates, and which will enable them to retain their money and lend it, too.

How to Deal With the Milk Trust

The milk dealers of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and various other cities have recently been raising the price of milk. This has been the opportunity of the yellow journalist. He fills his columns with furious denunciation of this most hideous of trusts and calls upon the Prosecuting Attorney and the Grand Jury to "enforce the law." Meanwhile the trust keeps on collecting profits and delivering milk.

UKRAINIAN SOCIALISTS

The Ukrainians are one of the greatest peoples of Europe, because there are more than 30,000,000 of them, and at the same time they are one of the least known peoples of the world. I may frankly say we could count on our finger nails the wise men of America that know something about Ukraine and Ukrainians; in fact, there is only a small number of English-speaking men and women who ever hear the word "Ukraine" (pronounced Oo-kray-na).

Every Knock a Boost Here is the way Puck takes a punch at Socialism. (James Allen, the millionaire, Socialist, says that Socialism is "not a practice, Socialism is a doctrine.")

The Wage Slave

Only a child of the tenement, Pale and weak, with slight form bent, Suffering from hunger and cold; Hurrying along with the bustling throng— The doth to the wage slave band belong, And only ten years old.

THE WAY TO MEET THE PROBLEM OF THE MILK TRUST IS TO TAKE THE PROFIT ELEMENT OUT OF IT.

This can be done by taking over the milk trade by the municipality. The city would have no object in selling poisoned or unclean or diseased milk. It would need to send but one milk wagon into a block. It could deliver pure milk, and, dispensing with the profit, could deliver it as cheaply as under the competitive system, or even cheaper, and still pay the farmer a reasonable price for his product.

The first step toward this end is for the workers to capture the city. Then they can use the municipal government for whatever purposes they desire.

ALL PROBLEMS OF MUNICIPAL TRUSTS CAN BE SOLVED IN THE SAME WAY.

Unions and Government Ownership

Considerable capital has been made of the fact that the National Convention of the American Federation of Labor has decided against the government ownership of railroads. The ground for the decision was that a strike would be impossible under government ownership.

Let us at once grant that this is true with the present government. The example of the postoffice has shown that few private employers are more tyrannical, more pitiless, more exacting, or bitter antagonists of organized labor than the national government.

Let the working class use its votes to gain control of the machinery of government and then every industry that passes into government ownership will also pass under the control of the working class.

Every Knock a Boost

Here is the way Puck takes a punch at Socialism. (James Allen, the millionaire, Socialist, says that Socialism is "not a practice, Socialism is a doctrine.") At tennis or at fencing there is simply no dispensing. With another human being in the game, The punching of a Corbett needs a buffer to absorb it.

ORIENTAL IMMIGRATION

MUST MAINTAIN THE HEALTH AND STRENGTH OF WORKERS. Seeing that the question of oriental immigration is causing quite a bit of discussion which is evidence that there is a great difference of opinion on it, I herewith call attention to some points that seem to have been overlooked.

The Exodus to Europe

The international labor market is as sensitive to changes in demand as the steel or cattle market. When, therefore, the stream of workers that has been flowing to the United States in search of an opportunity to dispose of labor power starts back toward the East, no surer proof is needed of the presence of an industrial crisis and an overcrowded labor market.

An economy tip: Candle ends are generally a great waste, but they can, if treated in this way, be used to the "blitter" end. Take a fairly large cork, one that will fit into the socket of the candlestick, place a pin or needle in the center of it and stick the candle-end on to this. Even the very worst piece of candle can be quite used up in this way.

Child or Poodle Dog

"How much better is a man than a sheep" or a poodle dog? I shall never forget the experience of one afternoon spent, not long ago, in one of the poorest tenement districts of this city. A poor woman lay in agony of physical and mental pain, her miserable little child gazing at the lifeless form of her 2-year-old child, waiting for the authorities to come and bear it away to the nameless grave which will never be watered by her tears.

BEETHOVEN'S LOVE FOR NATURE

Of all the composers of the first rank Beethoven was probably the one who loved nature the most, who lived nearest to nature. This was characteristic of him in his boyhood days. Reserved in his disposition, inclined to be solitary and much given to reflection, he would stray away from his companions into the woods, the hills, and by the brookside or the waterfall, and in the pure, fresh air, project his imagination into the loftiest flights, and gain inspiration for the master works he was later to produce.

INDIAN METALLURGICAL DEVELOPMENT.

A company has recently been formed in Bombay for the purpose of constructing in India blast furnaces, open-hearth steel furnaces, rolling mills, coke ovens and other plants necessary for the manufacture of pig iron, steel rails, bars, plates, etc., and to acquire mining rights over very valuable and large deposits of iron ore. A site for the new works has been selected near Sital Junction, on the Bengal-Nagpur railway, where the three essential—iron ore, coal and limestone—can be assembled at a low rate of transit.

States treasury notes or greenbacks fall? For the very simple reason that it was Wall street's business to make their gold, and they did it by bribing congress to put the exception clause on Lincoln dollars. The exception clause reads thus: "This note is payable for all debts, public or private, except duties on imports or interest on public debts." Those nineteen words are what murdered the best circulating medium the world ever saw, and has been the indirect cause of every panic for which we know that the more misery there is among the worker the less hope for an intelligent movement for the good of the cause.

ANOTHER BOND ISSUE.

At last the bond gamblers have made the issuing of another lot of government bonds a necessity, thereby increasing the pressure on the tune of the market, but most people seem to think it will be a good thing, even our worthy editor seems to think they are not so bad. It seems queer, too, when you stop to think that these same bonds are not even a half as good as the bonds that even Wall street objects to them. Of course if the government was fit to follow the example of Abe Lincoln by issuing $20,000,000 in United States non-interest bearing treasury notes, it would be the people without the intervention of the banker, there would be a terrible howl. Wall street would tell the dear workman that any paper money issued by any government without a gold back is an evil. Why, then, our editor would tell that all such issues of money would follow the same swift and slippery road down to valueless extinction as per his editorial of the 14th inst. Now, Mr. Editor, would not surprise me because the issue of $10,000,000 in paper money instead of bonds made of the same material and backed by the same security would rob the banker of the chance of averting about $10,000,000 annually out of the workman's hide as long as these bonds run.
