

WOMAN HAS KEY TO FAURE DEATH

Noted Men and Mme. Steinhell Implicated in Murder of France's Head

Paris, Nov. 27.—All Paris is stirred by the developments in the notorious Steinhell murder case that have come thick and fast since Wednesday night, when the widow of the murdered artist made a statement that her husband and her step-mother, Mme. Japy, were slain last May by a young man named Alexandre Wolff, son of one of her former servants.

Mme. Steinhell declared in a statement made to two newspaper men that she had been terrorized into keeping secret her knowledge of the crime by Wolff's threat to accuse her of having incited him to the deed. When arrested the man stoutly denied his guilt and declared that he could prove an alibi. Mme. Steinhell then weakened and said it was not Wolff the man who committed the crime strongly resembled him.

Suspicion then turned upon Mme. Steinhell herself and at 6 o'clock she was locked up in the prison of St. Lazare charged with the murder of her husband. Wolff was also held for a time, but was released late last night.

Murdered President Faure?

The anti-Semite Libre Parole charges Mme. Steinhell with having poisoned President Faure. The newspaper recalls that on the day of the funeral a writer on the Libre Parole, who had seen the body, said: "All the skill of the embalmers was unable to preserve the corpse from the dissolvent action of the subtle poison."

The Journal continues by charging that Chief of Detectives Hamard and Magistrate Leydett knew that the arrest of Mme. Steinhell inevitably would lead to the making up of the sensational mystery of Faure's death, which with difficulty had been stifled for ten years, and, accordingly, did their best to hush up the present inquiry. The newspaper concludes by saying that Faure was poisoned because he was opposed to revision in the Dreyfus case.

Outdoes Dreyfus Affair

The arrest of Mme. Steinhell, following her confession that for months since the murder of her painter husband and Mme. Japy her attempt to find the assassin and the innumerable fanatical articles in the newspapers, are the charges, is reported already to have begun a secret inquiry into the case to determine the truth of the allegation printed here yesterday afternoon that M. Leydett, the examining magistrate, entertained relations with the assassin which induced him to stifle the affair. The insinuations behind this charge, which involve the remarkable life history of Mme. Steinhell, have been on everybody's lips for months and explain the immense popular curiosity with regard to the crime.

In Love with President

Political opponents of the government, like Henri Rochefort, have been trying to make political capital of the affair by seeking to force an exposure of the scandal connected with the mysterious death of the president of the republic in 1898. Although hushed up at the time, it was common knowledge of those behind the scenes that Mme. Steinhell was with M. Faure at the Elysee when he was murdered. Some of the Parisian afternoon papers do not hesitate to print what they term the story of the liaison. According to these stories M. Faure had just returned from a journey to the south when he was murdered. Mme. Steinhell fell on her knees before him and took from her bosom a bunch of violets and threw it on the coffin. Then, sobbing, she prostrated herself on the ground, passionately kissing M. Faure's feet.

Kisses Portrait of Faure

A person who attended the funeral of M. Faure described today how, after the ceremony in the cemetery, Mme. Steinhell fell on her knees before the grave and took from her bosom a bunch of violets and threw it on the coffin. Then, sobbing, she prostrated herself on the ground, passionately kissing M. Faure's feet. Immediately after this, according to the same authority, M. Steinhell, who had been clamorous at the friendship existing between Faure and his wife, and who had accepted the Legion of Honor at the hands of President Faure, began proceedings for divorce, but through the intervention of his family this suit was withdrawn a fortnight afterward. According to gossip, compromising papers of some political importance were surrendered, but M. Rochefort has repeatedly charged that others remained in the possession of Steinhell at the time of his murder.

Rich Nobleman Involved

After Faure's death Mme. Steinhell, who admitted that night that she detested her husband, formed other alliances, some of them with men of political influence. She confessed last night and again today before the authorities that at the time of the murder of her husband and Mme. Japy she had a lover. This man is believed to be a rich nobleman who now is absent from Paris.

SHOOT-FIRING IN MINES IS CONDEMNED BY INSPECTORS

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 27.—Thomas McLean, state mine inspector, and George Colville, president of the Missouri miners, and Carl Scholtz, president of the Rock Island Coal company, the committee of arbitration to which was referred the shooting question which has tied up the mines of the Western Coal and Mining company at Denning, Ark., for eight months, reported yesterday, upholding the contention of the miners that the workers were dangerous and recommending the employment of shot-firing when the men were out of the mines.

ONE MARRIAGE IN 12 A FAILURE

Government Report Shows Divorce Is on Increase in United States

Washington, Nov. 27.—One marriage out of every twelve in the United States terminate in the divorce court. Divorce is two and one-half times as common in this country as it was forty years ago. Illinois grants more divorces than any other state in the union. These are three of the chief facts set forth in a compendium of statistics on marriage and divorce which has just been issued by the bureau of the census, department of commerce and labor. The statistics are the result of careful gathering of figures in every state in the union, the period covered being from 1867 to 1906. The last set of national statistics on marriage and divorce covered the period from 1887 to 1896. The present set of statistics, taken in conjunction with the former one, therefore, gives a view of the marriage and divorce question for the past forty years.

MAN ENDS HOLIDAY DRUNK BY SHOOTING SELF AND WIFE

The specter of tragedy claimed its share of the spirit of Thanksgiving last night in a little flat at 46 West Fifteenth street where a husband, crazed with drink, fired twice at his wife with murderous intent, and then, turning his smoking revolver on himself, sent a bullet through his heart.

FORM GIGANTIC LUMBER TRUST

Weyerhaeuser and Others Join in Control of Vast Minnesota Mine Tract

A huge lumber trust whose capitalization will be at least $20,000,000 is being formed in Chicago, and Edward Hines, 497 West Jackson boulevard, is its president. Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the "American Lumber King," is to be a party to the new organization. T. B. Walker, who is the largest owner of standing white pine, has thrust his way into the combine and will be one of the leading figures. A conference is now being held in St. Paul, the home of Weyerhaeuser, at which the details of the scheme are being perfected. The headquarters of the new trust will be at Chicago.

GUNNESS CASE VERDICT ARSON

Ray Lamphere Receives a Sentence of Two to Twenty Years in Prison

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 27.—Ray Lamphere was found guilty of arson last night after the jury had been out twenty-six hours. Judge John C. Richter immediately sentenced him to the penitentiary for an indeterminate term of from two to twenty-one years and assessed a fine of $2000. Lamphere probably will begin serving his sentence at Michigan City today.

Russian Council Seeks Further to Extract Names of Rebels From Prisoner

Three important facts were developed at the cross examination of Christian A. Rudowitz, who is fighting extradition in the court of United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote, yesterday. The testimony proved clearly that there was a state of war when Rudowitz declared that the community of Benen, in which he resided, had deposed the officers of the czar and elected a provisional committee to govern the town. This committee actually did rule the town until the "sword expedition" of the avengers of the czar, came.

SOME RUSSIAN METHODS

The following is another excerpt from the sworn records of the second Russian Duma and is incorporated in the stenographic reports of that body: "On December 15th in the City of Riga, a woman was arrested (whose name at her own request we for the time being withhold) and was sent to Oger. Here Yonin, with four guards, among whom were Otto Kivitt and Zeizun, tortured her, beat her with whips and wire clubs. The beaten and wounded parts of her body they rubbed with cloth and squeezed with their hands."

Christian Ansoff Rudowitz was again placed on the stand at the hearing before United States Commissioner Mark A. These battles, according to the testimony of Rudowitz, were fought between the militia of the Social-Democratic Labor party of Courland and the regular soldiers of the Russian army.

BLAMES DRYS IN CARMACK CRIME

President of Model License League Holds Them to Be Morally Responsible

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 27.—That the anti-saloon league and the Prohibition party were indirectly responsible for the death of Senator E. W. Carmack of Tennessee is the charge made by T. M. Gilmore, president of the National Model License League, in a statement given out here.

Moral Responsibility Charged. The statement follows: "The tragic close of the career of Edward W. Carmack, foremost among Tennessee's most brilliant sons, is being gloriously used as a means of promoting the political and mercenary projects of a pseudo-moral organization, that is in the sight of God and thinking men an accessory before the fact.

"The blight of the Anti-Saloon League is over the land. Pharisaism and hypocrisy, parading in the garb of Christianity, are leading the way to a goal that means the destruction of the political fortunes of able men, the corruption of our public service, the lowering of public morals, the creation of a bloodstained record of private property and a system of intolerance and a loss of liberty.

"There is an imperative call for a halt and a parley. The Anti-Saloon League, scoring a scattered and ill-directed opposition, has been accustomed to put the lash to legislators with one hand and to garner the shekels from the churches with the other. That time is passing.

League Is Discredited. "The Anti-Saloon League today is a discredited organization. It is not and never has been a reform organization. That its promoters are shrewd men

"In Missouri, the mighty Folk has fallen. He was assured by the Anti-Saloon League that it controlled a sufficient number of votes to elect him by an overwhelming majority.

"In Ohio, Governor Harris has been defeated for re-election because he accepted as true the false representations of the Anti-Saloon League that it could elect him. That received a handsome plurality, but Harris, Republican, went down in defeat.

"Great Men Fall. "In Kentucky the Anti-Saloon League former Governor of the state, a seat in the United States Senate to succeed Senator McCreary, who was 'marked' by the moneyed interests represented by the Anti-Saloon League, Mr. Beckham is now practicing law and a Republican will wear the senatorial toga.

"In Indiana the Anti-Saloon League endorsed Watson, Republican, and Watson, endorsed the Anti-Saloon League; it being represented to him that by advocating Prohibition he could win hands down. Indiana elected Thomas R. Marshall, Democrat, governor, though it gave a majority to Tarkenton. "To Florida, Michigan, Rhode Island, Louisiana, Pennsylvania and South Dakota, the Anti-Saloon League has met with humiliating defeats, while in most states there is a determination to break away from a system under which an alliance between the bootleggers and a venal political machine has been able to perpetuate a prohibition that never has prohibited.

DAVID WARFIELD IN "THE MUSIC MASTER" BAKAN TROUBLE

MAY BRING WAR

A SILHOUETTE STUDY OF WARFIELD.

After a pleasant week spent with Wes. Bigelow, the post commander, and his whole-hearted, rough-clothed comrades, David Belasco has taken us from rural Indiana in the 80's and placed us in sordid Houston street, New York, where Herr Anton von Barwig, the music master, comes before our eyes.

David Warfield, whose genius made Wes. Bigelow of "A Grand Army Man" a breathing, stirring human, has laid aside the grand army garb at the Garlick, and donned the familiar habitments of "The Music Master."

In spite of Mr. Warfield's newer artistic success, Chicago theater-goers have been waiting eagerly for a revival of "The Music Master." This tender, human play is now in its fifth season, and less ably he fought, but he had been misled.

"The people of Tennessee did not want statewide prohibition and they said so in unambiguous terms by balloting at the primary which resulted in Carmack's defeat by Patterson for the gubernatorial nomination. The distinguished statesman had been entitled to political retreat, should his hopes for success being heightened throughout by the potent drugs of flattery and promises beyond the possibility of fulfillment. The sting of defeat, all the deeper because of its unexpectedness, rankled in the heart of the proud Tennesseean.

His Fall Was Great. "Senator Carmack became embittered and, instead of placing the blame with the organization that had fired his ambition and assured him of success that could not be his, he adopted a course of personal journalism, writing editorials insulting to every man who had voted or worked for the victor.

"Senator Carmack knew that his course was dangerous in the fact that he armed himself with a deadly weapon. That he continued his attacks on Colonel Cooper, a private citizen of character and courage, after being asked to refrain, shows the readiness of a man driven to desperation by disappointment.

"His political career wrecked; his mind inflamed beyond reason; his heart bitter, and his life blood spilled, Edward W. Carmack is veritably a victim of the Anti-Saloon League."

"According to the best available estimates "Tag Day" yielded $30,000, a sum, it is estimated, that would give one meal a day to Chicago's 5,000 habitually hungry school children throughout the school year. Chicago smiled and was tagged yesterday.

And the biggest smile of all came shortly after midnight, when most of the money contributed had been counted, and it was estimated that between $25,000 and $30,000 had been realized for the support of Chicago's destitute children as represented by the five charities directly interested—the Children's Day Association, the Boy's Home, Shelter club of Allendale, the Margaret Eiter Creche, the Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children and the South Side Free Dispensary for Children.

Here is a choice bit: "Why, even the little newsboys on the streets were buying tags," said Mrs. A. H. Lamm; who boasted that for a period of three hours she had been offered anything less than a bill in exchange for a tag. "Messing boys and all the little kiddies seemed anxious to help the unfortunate little ones."

ESPERANTO IS ABANDONED AND 'KLO' WILL BE TRIED. New York, Nov. 27.—Although Esperanto has been hailed as the coming world tongue for several years or both sides of the Atlantic, the Young Men's Christian Association conducting language to it and Col. George B. Harvey giving much space to its promulgation in the North American Review, the officers of the New York Esperanto society have decided that Esperanto is faulty as Volapuk, its predecessor, was found to be twenty years ago.

At the last meeting of the society the members, who have dwindled down from several hundreds to fifteen, voted unanimously that Esperanto was too full of logical defects to be worth waiting any more time on. They decided to break away from the system under which an alliance between the bootleggers and a venal political machine has been able to perpetuate a prohibition that never has prohibited.

Ambassador at Constantinople Withdrawn; An Ultimatum to Turkey?

Vienna, Nov. 27.—Yesterday was a day of uneasiness and even alarm. Various reports, all seeming to harmonize with each other, created the belief that the Balkan trouble had come to a head and that war is near.

Disputed Ultimatum. The general interpretation of the withdrawal of Marquis Pallavicini, the Austrian ambassador at Constantinople, as a disguised ultimatum to Turkey; Russia's unfavorable reply to the Austrian note concerning the conference; the reported definite conclusion of the alliance between Turkey, Montenegro, and Serbia; the alleged clash of an Austrian column with a Servian guerrilla band; the rumored increase of troops in Bosnia and Herzegovina; the Semlin, opposite Belgrade, where it was asserted a plot to murder the Austrian minister had been discovered, were the principal causes of the excitement.

It is stated in diplomatic quarters that the gravest difficulties lie in the direction of the Austro-Russian disagreement and the probability of an alliance between Turkey, Montenegro, and Serbia.

Four Papers Contacted. The situation was in no wise bettered when it was learned that the government had contacted four Vienna newspapers for reporting the movements of troops, particularly at Semlin.

It is impossible to say how far the day's alarm is justified, but nothing can be definitely ascertained to show the situation really worse than it has been for the last few days. Nevertheless, the uneasiness is general, and the outlook respecting the contact between the Austrians and Servians.

AUTO FUMES SAVI RABBIT, BUT KILL PURSUING DOG

New York, Nov. 27.—Charles Crampsey, a Newark business man, had a strange experience while driving through New York City with two friends in his automobile. As the car was going along the mountain road on the outskirts of the town the occupants saw a dog pursuing a rabbit.

The rabbit reached the roadway it had to leap on a stone wall that ran parallel with the highway. The elevation brought it almost on a level with the tonneau of the car, and the next instant it had sprung across the intervening space and landed squarely in the seat beside Crampsey, who was driving the automobile.

The dog also had to leap the stone wall, but the automobile had gone by when he paused for a spring after his quarry and he missed landing where the rabbit did.

Crampsey had put on full speed and his machine was making a quick run over the country road. The dog was gaining, however, and he soon began to crawl on the automobile. As he reached the automobile the dog was seen to leap, and the next moment fell over dead.

One of Crampsey's friends, who was a veterinary surgeon, said the dog, whose heart had been weakened by the fierce race after the rabbit, had succumbed to the gasoline fumes and was suffocated. Crampsey will make the rabbit a pet of his children.

BOARD SPURNS WARD'S OFFER

A. Montgomery Ward's offer to permit the location of the Marshall Field museum on the lake front provided all other buildings are prohibited will be refused by the museum trustees and the south park commissioners. The latter declared they would fight Ward to the last ditch in order to determine for all time the law regulating the development of Grant Park.

There now is a favorable prospect that a decision can be obtained from the Supreme court within the three years that remain for procuring a ruling on the Art Institute case and the Ward, that the lake front is dedicated free of buildings. They assert that the opinion related only to the right of the city to maintain private buildings there.

When it comes to the right of the park commissioners to authorize buildings for public use appropriate to the park the decision will be different, the commissioners think. The point was argued in the Art Institute case and was decided in favor of the park board.

It is the general opinion of the interested authorities that in case the lake front site for the museum is barred the institution will be located elsewhere in the city.

SHIPS CRASH IN FOG AT SANDY HOOK; FOUR PERISH. New York, Nov. 27.—In a fog off Sandy Hook at 8 o'clock yesterday the steel freighter Georgia of the White Star Line, rammed and sank the lightly laden Panama Line steamer Finance, outward bound, with eighty-five passengers.

The Finance went down within ten minutes after the collision, carrying to their death three passengers and one of the crew. The remainder of the passengers, who included nineteen women and fourteen children, as well as others of the crew, were rescued by the boats of the Georgia. The freighter was not damaged.

Of the passengers lost, one was a woman, Miss Irene Campbell of Panama, who clung to the mast. She was the sinking vessel and could not be persuaded to release her hold.

William H. Todd, third assistant engineer, jumped overboard and was lost. When a roll of the passengers of the Finance was called it was found that Charles H. Schweitzer, a policeman of Panama and Henry Muller, a railroad conductor of Panama, had disappeared, and there is little doubt that they were drowned.

QUARANTINE AT LA GUAYRA KEEPS CASTRO FROM SHORE. Port of Spain, Trinidad, Nov. 27.—President Castro of Venezuela arrived here yesterday on board the steamer Guadalupe from La Guayra. He is on his way to Europe to secure expert medical attention. On account of the quarantine restrictions against La Guayra it was impossible for him to come ashore.

DIVORCE INCREASE SHOWN. In discussing the relation of divorce to population the bulletin says: "An increase of 20 per cent in population between the years 1870 to 1890 was accompanied by a 60 per cent increase in the number of divorces granted. In the next decade, 1890 to 1900, the population increased 25 per cent and divorces 79 per cent, and in the following decade, 1900 to 1910, an increase of 21 per cent in population was accompanied by an increase of 66 per cent in the number of divorces.

In the six years from 1900 to 1906, population, while in the first decade (1870 to 1890) they increased only about two and two-thirds as fast.

"Divorce rates appear to be much higher in the United States than in any of the foreign countries for which statistics relating to this subject have been obtained."

HOTEL KEEPER FINDS WIFE IN GUEST'S ROOM; KILLS HIM. Linton, Ind., Nov. 27.—William Dwyer, aged 27, an employee of the Vandallia railway, was shot to death at Good's hotel at Switz City here by William Good, proprietor of the hotel. The shooting was caused by the presence of Mrs. Good in Dwyer's room and it is claimed by Good that he had suspected relations between the two for some time.

Mrs. Good claims that she was discharging her duties as housekeeper in Dwyer's room when her husband entered and killed him without asking explanations. She denies there was any charge for jealousy of the part of her husband.

CAPTURES QUAIL FROM OWN COVEY

City Officials Are Caught in Busse's Revenge Raid on Illinois Athletic Club

Illinois Athletic Club

Mayor Busse's attempt to make the Illinois Athletic club better itself has been the cause of getting the mayor's own friends into cells at the Harrison street station charged with gambling in rooms at the club, and now the mayor is inclined to be offended. The affair has also stirred up a row within the club.

Recently the mayor caused the arrest of some of the officials of the club for pulling of a prize fight, which Mayor Busse just didn't happen to care to witness at the time, and now it is declared that revenge has been taken on his friends, some of whom are city hall officials, for having a pleasant little social game of cards in a quiet part of the club, where no one was likely to interrupt.

"Professionals" Tipped Off. But they were interrupted last Tuesday night and the club officials are blamed for the interruption. It is further declared that these same club officials had a tip on the "raid" that was to be made and hustled the professional gamblers and card sharps out of the building, steering the detectives to room 225, where Busse's friends were playing.

At Fox Lake last night Mayor Busse said: "The club has been playing ducks and drakes with the orders of the administration. They have held boxing bouts after being warned that they would not be permitted. I called up Clarence Green, the manager, and asked why the club was disobeying my orders. He entered into a spiteful discussion, which finally ended in his declaring that the club would do as it pleased."

City Officials Arrested. The real names of those arrested, it was learned yesterday, were: BELTON LOWER, president of the city's civil service commission.

HARRY SMITH, secretary of the Busse Coal company.

CORBUS GARDNER, former state senator.

CARL MUELLER, former state senator.

OTTO HOTTINGER, president of the Drug and Truss company.

"I am sorry the people connected with the city hall who were in the card game were not men enough to stand up and acknowledge the fact and vindicate the club regarding the nature of the card game in question," said William Hale Thompson, former president of the club.

"I do not believe there is any foundation for the statement that importation of cards was being made. I have this card game. Further, I do not believe any city hall official would play in that sort of a game."

CLAY WORKERS ARE QUIET, BUT TROOPS WILL REMAIN. Perth Amboy, N. J., Nov. 27.—Although the clay mining and clay working strikers in Keasbey village made no demonstration yesterday, it was decided not to withdraw the troops.

As in Keasbey, where the strike resulted in rioting and the shooting of six men by deputy sheriffs Wednesday, so all along the stretch of the Karitan river, where the clay pits and factories, quiet resigned throughout the day.

It is feared, however, that when the attempt is made to start up the factories again there may be greater need for protection than the sheriff will be able to afford.

The Rev. Francis Gros of the Hungarian church and the Rev. Julian Zielinski of the Polish church held a meeting with officials of the National Fire-Proofing company and asked for the increase from $1.25 to $1.50 for which the men have struck. The answer was that business conditions did not warrant an advance.

Why I Cannot Answer Your Questions. The operator's duties are to answer calls and make connections as rapidly as possible. Conversation with you would inevitably block other calls just as urgent as yours.

In the operator's training to use certain set phrases relating strictly to her work. Any questions outside of her functions must necessarily be referred to people having in charge special classes of "irregular" inquiries.

A minute's consideration will show that unless the operator's duty were uniform—practically the same in every call—she could not possibly give all subscribers the service they demand.

WEST SIDE MAY BE MUSEUM SITE. Montgomery Ward may win his fight against the erection of the Field museum in Grant park out of court, if the Field trustees will consent to the museum being taken to the west side of the city. It is now proposed to establish the museum in Garfield park. The proposition was taken up at a meeting of trustees of the west side parks yesterday and unanimously approved by the seven commissioners. A committee consisting of President Smulick and Commissioners Kolaczek and O'Donnell, was instructed to offer a site to the trustees of the Field estate. The proposition will be laid before the Field executors this week.

ORTHODOX HOTEL IS NOW OPEN; JEWS ARE HAPPY. New York, Nov. 27.—A hotel where orthodox Jewish families, merchants and transient visitors can enjoy all the comforts of Jewish life and at the same time observe the old Moslem dietary laws, has for a long time been in demand in this city, where so large a percentage of the population is Jewish. Such an institution was formally opened yesterday at Sevier street and Lexington avenue.

Fixing the Date. "When did you move into the suburbs?" "Three cooks ago."—Puck.

PRESS OF MANIA GIVEN A MUZZLE

British Official Seizes Plant of Native Paper Under New Censorship Law

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST.) Calcutta, India, Nov. 27.—On a request from the commissioner of police action was taken which is even more drastic than that authorized under the Press censorship law recently passed in the United States.

New Law Responsible The action was taken under the new law, which covers "attempts to violence" and shows that the magistrates are given under that statute a menacing power over a free press.

Press Freedom Endangered "That, as we have repeatedly said, is what makes the new act so especially objectionable. Such an act certainly endangers the existence of a free press, inasmuch as it places all but a few semi-official newspapers or those at the mercy of the executive government."

LAWYER SCORES PRINCESS ANNA

Paris, Nov. 27.—Serious allegations against the character of the Princess de Sagan, nee Comtesse de Castellane, nee Anna Gould, were made in court today by Maître Bonnet, counsel for Count Boni.

The first husband of the American heiress demands the custody of his children and a pension of 50,000 francs yearly from his wife, in making the motion in the court Bonnet charged that if permitted he would provide for the Princess, 1907. Anna traveled alone with Sagan through Italy and she later lived as man and wife in the Chateau Marais.

Bonnet also made the startling accusation that De Sagan, when he went to America to urge the countess to marry him, was accompanied by another woman who had lived with him, and that following the marriage to the countess he again established this woman in apartments in Paris.

NEARLY 200 DIE ON BURNING SHIP

Wild Scene of Panic Aboard the Sardinia Destroyed in Mediterranean

Valetta, Island of Malta, Nov. 27.—Nearly 200 persons, passengers and crew of the Ellerman line steamer Sardinia, are believed to have perished today, when the steamer was destroyed by fire just after she had sailed for Alexandria, Egypt.

Wild Scene of Panic There was a wild scene of panic on board as the rapidly spreading flames drove the passengers to the rails, and many of the excited ones, not even waiting for the boats to be lowered, plunged into the sea.

Scores are believed to have been drowned. Others, trapped by the fire, were literally roasted to death or smothered without a chance for life.

Most of her other passengers undoubtedly were Levantines, Maltese and Egyptians.

Many Passengers Foreigners The Ellerman lines of steamers comprise the following: The Ellerman line, which trades between Liverpool and Portugal, Italy, Sicily, the Adriatic, Alexandria, Cibraltar, Malta, Smyrna, Constantinople and Odessa, was founded in 1849 and was conducted by Messrs. John Ribby, Sons & Co. under the style of the Ribby line until the year 1870, when it passed into the hands of Messrs. Frederick Leyland & Co.

BEANPOT HELMET IMPRISONED LAD; FREED BY MOTORMAN New York, Nov. 27.—Playing soldier yesterday a Brooklyn youngster placed a brown earthenware jar, such is used for baking beans, on his head for a helmet, then found to his horror that he could not remove it.

STUDENTS MUST NOT PARADE NOW

German Authorities Stop "Bummel" or College Demonstration

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST.) Prague, Nov. 25.—In consequence of the recent disorders here the Socialist party of Prague has demanded the suppression of the "Bummel" or parade of the German students through the "Graben," one of the principal streets of the city.

Charges Tramped Up This is on the ground that the "Bummel" is provocative of disorders between the many of the workmen and the Bohemian population, and that such disorders are part of a pre-arranged plan of the capitalists to distract attention from the labor troubles and the question of the unemployed here.

Socialists Took No Sides The Socialists further claim that the students in the course of their "Bummel" broke the windows in Bohemian dwellings, smashed the windows of the shops, and that they were guilty of acts of violence for which none of them were arrested, while numbers of the unemployed, whose demonstration was distinctly peaceful in its nature, were haled into court and fined for creating a "disturbance."

Others, however, made it impossible for them even to approach the Sardinia, and they could do little in the way of aid.

Lisbon, Portugal, Nov. 27.—King Manuel had a narrow escape from death in a series of riots here today. The agitation against the government has been strong for some time past, and today, as the king was driving through the streets, the storm broke.

Showing the Reform Element This sudden and unexpected surrender of the gamblers is said to be the result of Chief Shipley's determination to show the reform element in the city that gambling can be stopped.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR MEN OF FLEET WILL BE LATE New York, Nov. 27.—Christmas gifts for officers and men of the battleship fleet now at Manila will be carried on the supply ship Celtic, but as it will not leave the Brooklyn navy yard before the middle of December, remembrances from sweethearts and relatives will be late in reaching their destination.

TRIBUNE CRAWLS, SO SUIT ENDS

"World's Greatest Paper" Offers Humble Apology to Ex-Mayor Dunne

Friends of ex-Mayor Edward F. Dunne prevailed on him to accept the apology tendered by the Chicago Tribune and to dismiss the $100,000 libel suit, which had been started against that paper for an editorial which charged that Dunne as mayor had packed the board of education with "freaks, monomaniacs and hoodlums."

The Tribune, which had viciously attacked Mayor Dunne's administration, under the following apology, under the head "Tardy Justice to ex-Mayor Dunne":

"A friend of ex-Mayor Dunne has called attention to an editorial published in The Tribune two years ago which he believes did an unintentional injustice to the ex-mayor in the heat of a political campaign.

On the strength of this counsel representing Judge Dunne moved that the suit be dismissed, which was done by Judge Gibbons late yesterday afternoon.

$50,000 DAILY SOCIALIST

DAILY SOCIALIST Refunding and Improvement Bonds, Interest 4 Per Cent, Payable Annually

The bonds are issued in denominations of $100, $50, $25 and $10. It should be possible to place the entire issue at once, if all those Socialists who have money to invest will take advantage of this opportunity.

These bonds will bear interest at four per cent, payable annually. The interest will be paid when due on presentation of coupons attached to the bonds.

WHAT THE BONDS ARE FOR

The bonds will be used, first, to refund all outstanding mortgages and notes, and, second, to provide the funds absolutely necessary for that enlargement and improvement which will place the paper on a profitable basis and render it much more effective in the fight for Socialism.

They will be secured by a mortgage on all the property of the paper. As all earlier mortgages will be released as rapidly as possible by the exchange of outstanding notes for the bonds, the latter will almost from the beginning be secured by a first mortgage.

THESE NOTES ARE SECURED BY DEPOSIT WITH THE TRUSTEE OF A MORTGAGE ON THE ENTIRE PLANT

Hitherto those who have loaned money, except upon first mortgage notes, have done so out of sympathy, and many times with little expectation of having it returned.

If the bonds are sold, not only will their own payment be assured, but the possibilities of the paper will be so vastly improved that no further assistance will be needed.

THE MARXIAN DIALECTIC

Lecture Delivered in the Garrick Theater Sunday Morning, November 22, 1906 BY ARTHUR M. LEWIS and physiology—the most illustrious and stimulating I ever heard—had captivated me to such an extent that I asked and obtained his permission to make a closer study of the skeleton and other preparations in his splendid museum of comparative anatomy (then in the right wing of the building of the Berlin University), and to draw them. Muller (then in his fifty-fourth year) used to spend the Sunday afternoons alone in the museum. He would walk in and go for hours in the spacious rooms, his hands behind his back, buried in thought about the mysterious affinities of the vertebrates, the "holy enigmas" of which was so forcibly expressed by the row of skeletons. Now and again my great master would turn to a small table at the foot of which I (a student of twenty years) was sitting in the angle of a window, making conscientious drawings of the skulls of mammals, reptiles, amphibians, and fishes.

Handkerchiefs soaked all night in salt water are very easily washed; this is especially effective when they are blood-stained.

To Believe Pain

The leaves of the horseradish scalded in hot vinegar will cure severe pain. They must be wrapped in thin muslin before applying or the skin will blister and cause a sore.

To Clean Flatirons

The waxed lining paper in cracker-boxes makes an excellent cleaner for flat irons. It is also useful to wrap up school luncheons.

Getting Rid of Dampness

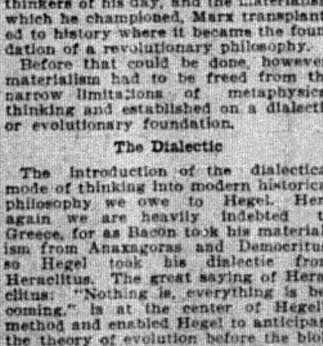

Damp cupboards or closets may be effectively dried by keeping in them a bowl of lime. Renew the lime every week, as it loses strength.

For Home Dressmakers

The introduction of the dialectical mode of thinking into modern historical philosophy we owe to Hegel. Here again we find how the materialism from Anaxagoras and Democritus, so Hegel took his dialectic from Heraclitus. Nothing is so surprising as that the dialectic method was not discovered until the theory of evolution before the biologists had demonstrated it.

Children of the Poor

For a piece of consummate nobility following from the London Daily Chronicle would be hard to surpass: "Loss of infant life is a more serious matter among the better classes, because the children of parents who can provide a decent bringing-up and good education for their offspring are more valuable to the nation." All children are equally valuable to the nation, and it is the nation's own fault entirely if some are deprived by it, when growing, of the proper means of developing into equally valuable adults. As I have contended previously, "The children are the greatest asset the state has, and the state should provide for and protect its own." If all are provided by the state with equal opportunities for mental, moral and physical development, all will be equally valuable citizens. State endowment of motherhood would be one way of furthering this end.

LADIES' SHIRT-WAIST

Paris Pattern No. 2596

All Sizes Allowed.

For the more dressy shirt-waist, made up in muslin, silk voile, chiffon cloth, taffetas or satin silk, this is an excellent pattern. The wide tucks at the front and over the shoulders give the required fullness, and the model fastens at the center-back. Silk which has been hand-embroidered is used for the yoke and turn-back cuffs. The material needed to form a skirt and undersleeves, which, if desired, may be of contrasting material. The sleeves may be made in seven-eighths or three-quarter length, according to taste. The pattern is 7 1/2 yards—22 to 44 inches, bust measure. For 38 bust the waist requires 4 1/2 yards of material 20 inches wide, 3 1/2 yards 27 inches wide, 2 1/2 yards 36 inches wide, or 2 1/4 yards 44 inches wide, as illustrated, and added on tacking 19 inches wide for collar, skirt and undersleeves.

Price of pattern, 10 cents.

All orders for patterns should be sent to the Chicago Daily Socialist. These patterns are strictly the property of the publisher and are not to be loaned, sold, or otherwise disposed of without the publisher's consent.

Materials required: One sheet of gray blotting paper. A small calendar. Half yard of one-half inch holly red ribbon.

THE CHICAGO DAILY SOCIALIST

Charity in the Public Schools

On last Wednesday the annual collection for the benefit of the Children's Aid society was taken in the public schools of Chicago. This is the only collection that is permitted in the public schools.

Since those who administer the funds receive no salaries and it is practically certain that all the money collected goes where it is needed, this may be taken as perhaps the best example of private charity to be found in Chicago.

The defects of this charity are those which are inherent in all charity. Every teacher knows the heart-burnings, the humiliation which the collection caused.

Then come the distribution of articles a few weeks later. Every scholar knows who has received them. A power is put into the hands of the teachers, which we believe to be seldom exercised, to show favors or punish those who have incurred her displeasure.

In short, every possible evil that has been urged by the professional philanthropists against feeding the school children is exaggerated in this very pet of all charities.

It is but one more illustration of the fact that charity curses him who gives and him who takes.

It Was War

The evidence in the Rudowitz case has shown that so far from his alleged crime being a personal act, it was a part of something much more like organized warfare than anything that has been conducted under the name of revolution in Europe for many years.

To be sure, from the very exigencies of the situation, the warfare was largely of a guerrilla character. But that the killing which was done on either side was for personal purposes is as ridiculous as to suggest that the shooting done by any military force is for the personal advantage of the soldiers concerned.

If we consider nothing but the evidence advanced by the Russian authorities, the case for Rudowitz is completely proven. The very documents submitted and published in the Daily Socialist contain references to "revolutionists" and to what was to all intents and purposes a state of war.

If he is sent back now it can only be done by a complete surrender of the right of asylum for political refugees. To deliver him up to Russia would be but to prove the existence of a secret agreement between that government and American bondholders to unite in the suppression of the movement for Russian liberty.

Passes and the Coroner's Office

Coroner Hoffman seems to think himself a badly used individual because the Daily Socialist published the fact that one of his deputies is receiving passes from the South Side Elevated railway.

The Daily Socialist has no means of looking into Coroner Hoffman's mind. It is possible that he is wholly sincere. It may be that he is so innocent in the ways of corporations and their relation to public officials that he looks upon the granting of passes by transportation companies as mere courtesies.

Perhaps it is a mere coincidence that the street railways of Chicago furnish a large number of the cases on which the coroner is expected to decide. Perhaps a deputy coroner with a pass in his pocket and the hope of future ones would give an impartial decision where a street railway was concerned.

But it is just as well not to put temptation in the way.

Far From Assured

The prospect of a permanently enlarged and improved paper is still uncertain. Unless there is a change inside of ten days it will no longer be uncertain—it will be decided in favor of failure and then it will be a battle for life.

The ten thousand increase in subscriptions is absolutely necessary within six weeks if the projected improvements that will mean a self-supporting paper are to be realized.

We know that you will not let the paper stop. We know that when its existence is threatened you will come to the rescue. But it will take many times the effort to insure existence then that is required now to bring a triumphant success.

are going to deny yourself something that you need, you are going to sacrifice something that you greatly desire in order to buy that bond. And you are going to get a new subscriber for the Daily Socialist—THIS VERY DAY OR WEEK.

Yes, it is true. Money was required for the "Red Special." You have already given, and given again. Yes, Money was required for your local, and for your state legislature and city aldermanic campaigns. Yes, Money was required for the congressional campaign and money is required for the Socialist weekly papers.

You, reader, are going to give to ALL these purposes. How do I know? I know because I know YOU ARE A HERO. You are going to deny yourself that you may serve your fellow man.

The work of the Daily Socialist will never stop till the Working Class of the World has got its education. The six-page Daily Socialist is YOUR Chicago University, reader—not Rockefeller's.

BE A HERO. Give. Give NOW. The dark, the utter dark, black as those depths of the sea "where the blind white sea snakes are," that is the dark which surrounds Christian Rudowitz, Russian peasant, as he sits and listens to the fight being made on the floor of Commissioner Foot's court room.

SURE, WE BELIEVE HIM

RUDOWITZ, THE PRISONER

The dark, the utter dark, black as those depths of the sea "where the blind white sea snakes are," that is the dark which surrounds Christian Rudowitz, Russian peasant, as he sits and listens to the fight being made on the floor of Commissioner Foot's court room.

Not a word can penetrate the darkness of his knowledge, not a single ray of hope can come to him from the splendid words of Darrow, of Hourwich, of Hyde, of Slesman, the four attorneys, the strong men who declare that the czar shall not take him back to worse than death.

IS AN AMERICAN LABOR PARTY A LIKELIHOOD?

Of all the paradoxes of American civilization, this, indeed, has always seemed to Englishmen the most amazing. How comes it that in the greatest industrial democracy of the world, Labor has never yet "found itself," and that in a country which many Europeans are still innocent enough to regard as a paradise of the workingman, the workingman has hitherto failed to secure a direct representation of his interests?

English impression somewhat brutally would not trust any of their members to remain faithful to the cause of Labor on a salary of $8,000 a year. The idea of graft and political corruption has so penetrated the American mind that a Labor leader in congress would soon be suspected of having "sold out" to the party bosses or their allies, the capitalists.

It is a common opinion among European economists that trade unionism in the United States has been tainted by most of the vices that have from time to time appeared in American business and American politics. One consequence of this fact, if a fact it be, is that American workmen limit their trust in their trade union leaders to industrial disputes, and even in that sphere it is by no means absolute.

TO THE EDITOR

WANT LEAFLETS IN THE COEUR D'ALENE I have just finished reading the Daily Socialist issue, November 23. Your editorial headed "To Take or To Buy," I consider of importance as a propaganda matter, as well as the article by LeRoy Hixson, titled "The Pacific, Its Cause and Cure." I would like to have 1,000 leaflets of each article for distribution here in C. Dahn, especially the latter, in fact I would like 3,000 of each of the "Panic, Cause and Cure" article, because it is so short and to the point that it can be read in a few minutes and would be handy to inclose with letters.

EVIDENCE FOR THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY

BY ERNEST POOLE.

This amazing yarn is not to be read by men of this age. Pass it by, gentle reader. For doubtless at this moment you are on a trolley car, clinging grimly to a strap, you need all your wits, your strength, your time. So do not waste your time on this. For to you it would be the dullest reading.

But to you, Oh, man of a hundred years hence, if perchance in searching through some dusty library shelves, on which are piled the archives of the Past, your eye should light on this old paper, yellow and tattered from age—to you it will be anything but dull!

"Oh, revered ancestor," you will mutter, "what an infernal old liar you were!" But confound you, sir, I was no liar!

On the tenth day of October, in the year 1908, at eight o'clock in the night, on a helter-skelter corner of the city of New York, on the outskirts of a crowd which was listening to a Socialist speech—

A thin little clerk, some forty years old, who had given up all hope of an increase in his salary, and yet worked hard and faithfully morning, noon and night, in the effort to support a wife and seven children, whom he passionately loved—

A taciturn young surgeon, whose unusual ability might well have made him rich, but who chose instead to spend his days and nights upon free cases from the tenements, because his deepest passion was to meet death in its stronghold, grapple with it, wrest some of its victims away—

A stout little artist who had no excuse to be stout, who ate but one square meal a day, who starved and froze in an attic room, working at his easel, and absorbed, delighted, because to paint a picture that he would not be ashamed of was the one intense purpose of his life—

A tall, gaunt young man, who had been well-to-do, but had squandered his snug fortune in the vain attempt to invent an aeroplane that would not tumble, and who still dreamed of this and only this day and night—

A shrewd, brilliant young reporter, like myself, a youth of untold genius whose talents as yet had not been rewarded, who worked for a paper from 3 p. m. to 4 a. m., every night, Sundays included, roaming about like a bull terrier, sniffing in every direction for news, and happy in it all, because his one great passion was to obtain for his paper "a scoop" — shoulders and cool, impassive grey eyes, a locomotive engineer, whose one pride and joy it was to make his ninety-two-mile run on time—

And last, a short, grey-headed old man, who stumped on a wooden leg, the real one having been shot away in the civil war, a most enthusiastic war veteran who attended all reunions but refused to draw a pension, giving as his reason, "If Abe Lincoln gave up his life for the job, I guess I can give up a leg!"

These seven men, all conservatives born and bred, circling with conservative souls around the Socialist speaker, and finally drawing together by deep mutual sympathy—

Crossing the street, arm locked in arm, and there holding a meeting of their own, did solemnly agree, that—

Whereas, the Socialist agitators are fast becoming a grave menace to all our institutions—making every man a slave to all, by taking from him the chance to amass a fortune for his wife and children and their children—

Therefore, be it resolved, That Socialism is a wild, an utterly impractical vision—

Because the one stimulus which makes men work faithfully and hard is the great fundamental hope which the Socialists would remove, the old blood-thirsting hope of some day amassing wealth—

For this is human nature—which cannot be changed!

THE FACTORY FUND AND THE CLASSES

EDWARD MEEMAN

One of America's recognized institutions is the "factory fund," a public fund started by business men to rob other cities of their industries and establish these industries in their own community.

The ideal of these bus. men, the ruling class of our cities, is quantity, not quality. They want a larger city, not a cleaner or more beautiful one.

They want more factories, not more substantial, healthier ones. They want a larger population, not a happier, nobler people. They want a mass of humanity to exploit; they are not interested in the making of men. When they "boost the town," comparing their city with rival cities, they talk of numbers of factories, numbers of homes, numbers of people, not the standard of living. They do not talk much of efficient public utilities or public work for the uplift of the citizens.

These business men come smilingly to Labor, great broad-minded, high-souled Labor, strong in body, clean in spirit—Labor that sees far and deep. With only tongue they say to Labor, "You must show your public spirit by helping us to build up a great metropolis."

"No," Labor answers with strength. "What cause have we against our brothers in other cities? Why should we bring them hardship by taking their jobs from them, or forcing them to break up their homes and move their families? What good will it do us? We must continue to do as we are now doing, work long and hard for a pittance that you may live in idleness and luxury."

"When you talk of making our city cleaner, better and nobler, then we shall listen."

The factory fund idea convicts the capitalist class of the barren materialism with which they have charged workmen, and especially Socialist workmen.

The working class would settle the material question of food, clothing and shelter, only as a basis for spiritual things. To the capitalist class the amassing of wealth is an end in itself. Because of this difference in ideals, the working class is destined to wrest the domination of the earth from its present masters.

At Bridge Miss Bridge Friend—You ought to be able to write fine comedies, Mr. Post.

Young Author—You flatter me, Miss Fairfax. Why don't I tell you?

Miss Bridge Friend—Because you make such amusing plays.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Last Straw Arthur—They say, dear, that people will live together get to look alike.

Kate—Then you must consider my refusal as final.

THE OLD STORY

"But, papa, he says he can't live without me."

"Give us a new one. I told that same story to your mother."—Browning's Magazine.

Compliment "What are maruspals?" asked the teacher, and Johnny was ready with his answer.

"Animals that have pouches in their stomachs," he said, glibly.

"And for what are these pouches used?" asked the teacher, ignoring the slight inaccuracy of the answer.

"I'm sure that you know that, too."

"Yes'm," said Johnny, with encouraging promptness.

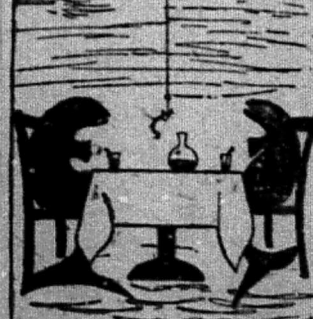

"The pouches are for them to crawl into and conceal themselves when pursued."—Youth's Companion.

Sound Advice A man advertised recently in a London paper to forward on receipt of postage stamps, "sound, practical advice that would be applicable at any time and to all persons and conditions of life."

On receipt of the stamps, he sent his numerous victims the following:

"Never give a boy a penny to hold your shadow while you climb a tree to look into the middle of next week."

A SLOW SERVICE

The Host—Too bad that fisherman hasn't two books. It's so disagreeable to wait so long between courses.

A STREET RAILWAY IN CHINA

The electric street railway system recently completed in Shanghai, China, is one of the forerunners of the mechanical era which is bound to shake that country out of its sleep of centuries.
