First, the party membership was in-creased to haif a million—that is it was almost doubled in a single year, and now at the Congress just held in Leip-zig 633,000 members were represented, or nearly three times the membership of three years ago! The German purty is now the largest political organiza-tion in the world. But this is only the hemonium. tion in the world.

But this is only the beginning. Less than three years have intervened since 1907. Yet in the partial elections since the dissolution of the reichstag last July, the Socialist vote has increased 25 to 56 per cent and every one of the other parties, conservative and liberal, radical and Catholic alike, has lost. At this rate the Socialist vote has already risen to more than four million, and if the rate is maintained at the next elec-Grand Jury Called for This Week May Indict Some Big Politicians the rate is maintained at the next elec-tions held in 1912, the party will re-ceive the suffrages, not of four, but of five million German citizons!

Several important elections occur within a few weeks and there is lit-tle doubt that before the first of No-vember final evidence will be at hand to show the strongest Socialist cur-rent in the history of the country. Judge Tuthill's court room is the fo cal point of the eyes of all Chi-cago, for ne one but Wayman and his aids know where the lightning of the law will strike before the October grand jury adjourns. Men now in high official positions may be cast under fear of prison and terror spread throughout the circles which have profited from afficials and business corruption.

But what is the nature of this growth? Are the party membership and the Socialist vote being swellen by the adhesion of mere radicals and iaborites? There cap be no doubt that hundreds of thousands of voters, disgusted with the so-called radical and democratic-Catholic parties are voting for the Socialists merely for this reason. Also many conservative workingmen are leaving the Catholic and "liberal" trade unions.

Now, since the recent elections, the anti-Socialist press of Germany and of Europe generally was in a quantity. The growth of the Socialist press of many and of surpose generally was in a quantity. The growth of the Socialist press of many and of surpose generally was in a quantity. The growth of the Socialist press of many and of surpose generally was in a quantity. It is known that Wayman has beer approached and asked for a compro-mise, it being realized that his ambimise, it being realized that his ambi-tion for the governorship can its either along the road of popular favor or the smoother paths of the well offed po-litical machine. This is what is un-derstood that Wayman meant when he said that on his trip, from which he has just returned, he met a man who "took him up onto a high mountain." It is said that Wayman has declined and prefers to mount to high political

Party Is Revolutionary

It is true that along with the growth of revolutionary Socialism there is also a growth of this diluted form, but it is everywhere in the minority. The party executive does not have a single revisionist member.

The party press on the whole is revolutionary. The Neue Zelt, the official weekly, continues to be edited by Karl Kautsky. The Vorwaerts, the most powerful Socialist organ in the world and equal in influence to all the rest of the Socialist press, has been placed in the hands of some of the most radical revolutionaries, while the other Socialist newspapers of the country are pretty evenly divided between the two factions. show.

The exhibition was largely under the direction of Mrs. Ellen Henrotin, prominent club woman of Chicago, who takes a great interest in the improve-ment of the working conditions surounding women and children toilers.

Since the exhibition Mr. Ritchie has out into effect the lesson he learned here. Whereas the two girls on exhibition were working at a weekly wage, as many other follers in his factory were doing, all the work is now being done by the piece. The women and children get paid for what they do and no more.

Easy to Break Law

It is the desire of the children and the women to make as much as possible under the piecework system that makes the violation of child labor laws a very easy matter. Mr. Ritchie's efforts at the present time are directed toward "obeying" the law. This means that he only breaks the spirit and the letter of the law where he thinks it is safe and where the courts can't "get" him. It is a very easy matter to break the child labor law. A person prominently connected with the enforcement of the laws for children and women tollers claims that the law is so full of holes that it is possible to "drive a team of horses through it." It is the business

An excellent example of how this works is found in the cases of sever children from Ritchie's sweatshop which came up in the municipal court last Thursday. The factory inspectors from the office of State Factory In-spector Davies had found and reported that there were no chairs for the chil-dren to sit on while they worked at Ritchie's factory, as the law demanded. Ritchie was haled into court as a re-sult and the law was called into play.

Then followed the spectacle of the little children going on the witness stand and swearing that the chairs vere provided for them, but that the

Abuses Union Leaders

"I have sometimes gotten myself disliked by expressing my opinions," he claimed, getting into his denunciation. "I have said what I thought of union labor and its leaders, who almost with no exception are villains and grafters, grafters both from the employer and the employe. Most of them are vicious in habit and char ter. They are singers, boycotters, rikers and haters of all labor which they cannot absolutely control, and which declines to be grafted from. I have said what I thought of the Socialistic craze now abroad in the land and have said what abroad in the land and have said what I thought of its leading exponents such as the late president who advocated and appropriated as his own practically every 'ism' and idea which B: yan ever enunciated.

Socialists and no two agree on any one thing except hatred, envy, covetousness of and wrath and malice to-wards any and all men, who by enter-prise, thrift and other virtues have prise, thrift and other virtues have won success greater than theirs. Fail-ures are made by reason of lack of virtue, and by the possession of vices and habits which in all cases promote failure and defeat success.

Must Have Big Profits

"Capital never has and never will take great risks in developing a coun-try or an industry unless there is a prospect of great gain. The proposed corporation tax, income tax, inheritake tax, are all, every one of them, purely Socialistic and, to my mind, simply outrageous. The politicians (not statesmen) from Indiana, Wisconsin Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas are fomenting trouble and trial for us all. Their Socialistic, demagogpaternalistic talk must be 'sat up-a.' stopped and stlenced by word and

"Why should any eight-hour law be in effect? It simply kills all ambition and puts every laborer on a dead level, for hard work and long hours are the only things that have ever won success. Calls Leaders Insincere

"Unionism is a 'Game of Graft' from start to finish for the entire and sole and only benefit of its lawless leaders, the worthless workers of mouths and dupes. Not one of those leaders in a hundred is honest and sincere. The few who are honest and sincere are few who are honest and since the full of envy and malice, covering the success which others gain while they success themselves. full of envy and malice, covering the success which others gain while they fail to work for success themselves. Success never has come to man, woman or child who did not first realize that he must work to win it, and then 'got busy' for himself instead of trying to worry some one else into failure. "Unionism never has and never will be of any use or benefit to a real worker for he can always and forever get work at highest wages. I have not yet lived long enough to find a good, loyal, faithful, honest worker out of work. The whole world of employers is huating all the time for, and ready to pay big wages and salaries to, the able, the honest and the industrious. There is always room at the top. The workers win while the idle and vicious fail. This always has been, is now and ever will be so."

I didn't know there was such a paper in existence. Here's S5. Put me down for as long as that will pay for and call for more whenever you need it." IT WAS THE CAPITALIST PAPERS OF CHICAGO THAT SAVED THE DAY!

They've grown foxy since then and rarely say anything about the Daily Socialist. But the following gem appeared in the editorial columns of the Chicago Daily Journal for Friday, Oct. 1. It's on the European movement. Read it. It's

IS SOCIALISM ON THE DECLINE?

While its doctrines will always find some supporters, the events of the past few years indicate beyond the doubt of any close student of world history that Socialism is never likely to become the guiding spirit of any nation blessed with ordinary civilization.

Average citizenship demands economical systems, uniform and practical. Experience has taught the bitter lesson that experimentalism is a poor school to follow blindly. Humankind is conservative. Sound radicalism goes slowly.

Socialism cuts little figure in France and less in England. Other European countries, with the sole exception of Germany, have no Socialist movement worth mentioning. Germany, the etadle of this chimera, has learned its lesson, and German Socialism is waning rapidly.

Two years ago the reichstag had seventy-eight Socialist members. The last general election left but forty-form a decrease form. The last general election left but forty-four, a decrease from 20 to 11 per cent of the total membership of that body. This tremendous loss in the hotbed of the faith naturally weakens the movement all over Europe.

In the United States there are not wanting signs that Socialism is losing adherents. The mistaken economic policy of Republican administrations is responsible for most of the converts in this country. Already many of them appreciate the fact that no relief can ever be expected from Socialist political successes. They naturally are beginning to for-sake Socialism and join a party which believes in modifying existing systems and changing conditions to suit the needs of progress.

Progress is the most deadly for of Socialism, which, in its most con-crete form, is scarcely more than an expression of discontent. There-fore, following the present decline to its natural conclusion, Socialism may be expected presently to discover here as it is clearly may be expected presently to disappear here as it is already disappear ing in Europe:

The TRUTH regarding the above appears in the editorial column of today's Daily Socialist. Turn over and read it.

The Journal's editorial is intended to injure the Socialist movement in America. Just how much August Belmont and the Civic Federation must pay for anti-Socialist editorials cannot be ascertained at this time. SAYS POMPEIIAN BOOM CAN BE SMELLED 1,000 MILES

"One of the worst booze joints in this ity is in the Congress hotel. It is the Pompelian room, and it can be smelt for a thousand miles. It requires pluck to denounce such things as can be seen in the Congress hotel any day, or to declare that the cloquence of a hundred men like Dr. Gunwalus can never cover the sins of the barroom right under his pulpit, which fills up pretty soon after his sermon."

That was the sort of "plain take" it hat Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins delivered to his hearers yesterday moraning from his pulpit in the Pilgrim Congregational church.

Discutisfied, perhaps, with his address of two weeks ago, characterizing is not a problem—it is a fact." he said. "In the Scandinaviau countries, in one out of every three street "from hell to Halsisted," the minister went out for bigger game and in language that startied his congregation, directed his attention to the famous Michigan avenue hostelry.

Albert Pulitzer was born at Mako, Hungary, in 1851 and came to the United States in 1867. His first work in this country was as a teacher of German in the Leavenworth (Kan). high school. Two years later he joined the staff of the Illinois Staats Zeitung in Chicago. He went to New York in 1871 and in 1882 founded the Journal, now the American, which he sold in 1896, retiring because of ill health.

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST) New York, Oct. 5 .- That the Workingmen's Political party s an annex of the corrupt Tammany Hall Demoeratic political machine, is admitted by John J. Connell, secretary of the District Council of Painters and Decorators, and vice president of the fake "Labor party."

For the Democratic Party

The situation was brought out when Connell was asked would resign from the Workingmen's Political party should be discover that it is a blind for Tammany to gain the labor vote.

"No, it would make no difference to me," he replied, emphatically. "In fact, when I joined I was told that it was the Democratic party."

Socialism Dying Again

There is one stock editorial that is kept within reach of the head of almost every capitalist paper. It is the one that tells of the decline of Socialism. Although Socialism has steadily grown for more than half a century, without a single setback that extended over national lines, hough the figures showing this growth have been circulated by mutions of copies and are accessible in every wellequipped library, still this same old editorial turns up regularly. The wish is father to the editorial, and insists on parading its offspring before the public.

The Chicago Journal has just dressed up this old falsehood and shudder, according as the nature was sent it forth to such of the world as reads its columns. Here we are informed that "Socialism cuts little figure in France and less in Eng-

Even the censored news columns of the Journal give the lie to this sentence. If the editor had read even the distorted cables he publishes elsewhere he would have learned that Socialism has grown so strong that it is on'y by bribing renegade Socialists to take office that a cabinet can be formed. Those same censored news columns could not keep from printing the story of how Socialism has grown in England until today it is the one issue in politics. This is so well known that it would insult the intelligence of our readers to tell them of it again.

The Journal editor continues: "Other European countries, with the sole exception of Germany, have no Socialist movement worth mentioning." How about Finland, where the Socialists are by far the largest politica! party? How about Austria, with nearly ninety members in the legislative body? How about Denmark, where effort after effort has been made to follow the French example and entice Socialists into the cabinet, and where it is generally recognized that the next general election may easily bring a Socialist majority, and where the largest and most widely circulated newspaper is published by the Socialist party to propagate Socialism, and where practically every city has a majority of Socialists in its municipal council?

How about SWEDEN? Has the Journal forgotten Sweden? Not an its efforts to censor its columns and distort the truth have been able to keep from its readers all knowledge of the fact that the organized laborers of Sweden (and who says union man says Socialist in Europe) have paralyzed the industry of that country and are making a struggle that is convulsing all Europe in the effort to overthrow some of the worst phases of the tyranny of capitalism.

But even in Germany the Journal would have us believe that "Socialism is waning rapidly." It says:

Two years ago the reichstag had seventy-eight Socialist members. The last general election left but forty-four, a decrease from 20 to 11 per cent of the total membership of that body. This tremendous loss in the hotbed of the faith naturally weakens the movement all over Europe.

"This tremendous loss" was accompanied by an increase of a quarter of a million votes. Since then two by-elections have been held, and the Socialists captured them both, although they had previously been held by other parties. The last convention of the Socialist party of Germany, just held at Leipzig, showed more members more money, more papers and more activity in every line than ever before. Such "tremendous losses" do "naturally weaken" something, but principally they weaken faith in the credibility of the

There is no possibility of excusing such an editorial on the grounds of ignorance. The Journal office boy, even if he read nothing but the censored columns of that paper, would know better than Lilly and lies: I hungry! to write anything so foolish.

That editorial was written because the Journal believed that most of its readers were ignorant fools. It was written in the hope of keeping them in that condition. It was written in order to weaken faith in the cause of Socialism in this country. It was written because those who inspired its composition KNEW IT WAS A LIE AND FEARED THE TRUTH.

Fortunately the workers of this country are no longer dependent upon papers of the character of the Journal for their news.

It Proves Too Much

A brief survey of the capitalist exchanges that come to this office has shown a remarkable phenomena during the last week, Nearly every one of them contains one or more letters from readers defending the rule of Diaz in Mexico.

There is a strange similarity about these letters. They nearly all purport to be written by someone who has "traveled all over Mexico" and who has not seen any of the abuses exposed by the Socialist press. The letter then ends with fulsome praise of the genius of Diaz in "restoring and preserving order" and intersperses some rabid denunciations of "muck-rakers,"

Now, one of the charges of those who are fighting Diaz is that he maintains a highly paid and extensive "press bureau" in the United States. They have given specific examples of papers so subsidized. They have named writers employed by this bureau and have exposed the falsity of their writings.

This sudden outbreak of "communications" would seem rather to disprove this charge than to discredit the critics of Diaz.

The critics have been definite, personal and specific in their charges. They have told in what prisons men were tortured. They have described in detail the plantations where slavery is practiced. They have pointed out the exact persons who were murdered and told where the murders took place.

Such statements are not to be refuted by generalities. They are certainly not disproven by a flood of "communications" bearing all the carmarks of a common origin.

ANOTHER STRIKE

The other day one thousand weavers, to 90 cents a day for twelve hours are now striking and starving to get struck for increase of wages. They were employed in Mathew Chandler Durfee Borden's cotton mills at Fall

Since the taking of the U. S. census there have been two wage reductions in Mr. Borden's mills, one of 10 per cent in 1903 and a later one of 12½ per cert in 1904.

the weavers struck the other to get back the 22% per cent. Borden gave them a 5 per cent in-crease and they went back to work. Mr. Taft in the last campaign as-

Today those same workers are striking to get back the old wages. If fate is with them and locy strike again fate is with them and Lovy strike again they may even get back (in Mr. Taft's prosperity) the starvation wage scale of 1900 (Mr. Roosevelt's prosperity).

And, friends, this is America, the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Here about us tens of thousands of cotton operatives fighting desperately for work at $1 a day.

"Gipsy" Smith

"Gipsy" Smith, the great evangelist, is in Chicago. In will be here for a h. The meetings are held in the Seventh Regiment Ar tory, where we had mendous.

The purpose of the meetings is twofold.

In the first place, shrewd capitalists want to divert the attention of the peofrom the real situation they are in. They want to instill obedience, teach building to the powers that be, and excuse themselves from responsibility for a wickedness that exists.

But the main purpose for this evangelistic campaign is without a shadow of doubt to get people to "be good."

"BE GOOD."

That is the burden of the massage from Gipsy Smith. And no one will doubt to heaven when you die.

Now, no one who is unprejudiced will oppose this purpose. We all want to have a better life here and most of us would like to go to heaven when we die.

But 'Gipsy' Smith MISSES THE POINT. He does not know that it is ENTIRELY IMPOSSIBLE TO BE GOOD under this present system of exploitation, of profit, of competition.

NO MAN CAN GO OUT AND MAKE HIS LIVING AND AT THE SAME

Under the present order a business man is compelled to do "shady" things in transacting business or he will be driven out by his competitors. He can't "be good" and at the same time succeed in business. Therefore he can neither have a decent existence in this world nor can he go to heaven when he dies. To him the message of "Gipsy" Smith is a nightmare and a horror.

No worker can hold a job and "be good." You must remember that according to "Gipsy's" doctrine all must be supplied before I come in for my share. I cannot take a job as long as another man is without one and wants to work in my place. If I do I break the law that is supreme in Smith's book.

There are 6,000,000 were looking for a job in this country and I cannot "be supplied.

If I take their job I am bad. I cannot have a decent time while on whether I have a job or not, and I cannot go to heaven when I die.

Now, "Gipsy" Smith does not know the cause for this. He does not know that capitalism makes it absolutely IMPOSSIBLE FOR PEOPLE TO GET THEIR LIVING AND AT THE SAME TIME "BE GOOD."

Under Socialism, which means collective ownership and democratic management of the means of life, industry and business can be carried on without "shady" transactions. There will be no profit to lead people to do anything crooked at all. They can be entirely houest and upright in their deings. There will be a job for everybody, and all will get what they earn. No woman will need to sell herse!" for a living. No mother will have to destroy her offspring for fear of hunser.

Under Socialism we CAN get our living and "be good" at the same time

Then we can have a decent and respectable life and have heaven right here and be ready to go wherever the destiny of our beings designates.

"Gipsy" Smith should be told that we die as we live. We live as we are compelled to live. Capitalism compels us to live wrong, bad lives. We will die in the same way, no matter how long his meetings last and how large they

You cannot right people's lives by preaching goodness. It has to be preparing a condition, an environment, in which people CAN live right. This is the aim and purpose of Socialism.

And so we work and agritate and sacrifice in every way we can.

And so we work and agitate and sacrince in every way we can.

That is the reason we fight so hard to keep this preacher and teacher, the lity Socialist, going. This is the preacher and teacher that tells HOW we can good and have heaven here and always.

It is the greatest message ever spoken. It is the hope of the present gention and of generations to come. It is the gospel of justice, of love, of brotherhood.

Come with us, "Gipsy." We have not as large a salary to offer you as you get now. But we have the joy of fighting the battle of the ages for the freedom of all humanity. We have within our consciousness the peace that passeth understanding because we rest on a sure foundation.

And we are keeping up this mighty battle. We will win. We have no defeat to fear. Victory is as certain as the sunrise in the morning.

In the meantime we go at this necessary task of adding to the clean-up fund.

Gatherers of statistics will no doubt make a note of this heroic attempt to equal the record made by our ex-presi-dent. If Mr. Coboney will persevere there is no telling but that he will run Mr. Roosevalt a close race for the laurels as self-hooster.

There is no reason why this should not be so. Workingmen have been known to attend reform meetings. The important feature of this announcement is that the lines between the two classes is becoming to classes is becoming to classes is becoming to classes is becoming to classes.

And, if she happens to be good looking, with a healthy color, then it is a case of "high life agrees with her. Well, she "Il get it some day, just wait," and then all you people living in this "Christian era" sit back and wait for her to "get it." And if she ever does "get it" you wisely nod your heads and say, "Didn't I tell you? I knew it all along." And pat yourselves on the back for having "known it all along."

With conditions so, it is no wonder that the manager in the "home office" feels independent. He is too busy to attend to individual complaints; the traveling manager knows this and turns their independence into his caddish how.
