Alderman "Johnny" Powers Backs "Trust" to Skin the Public.

TAXICAB TRUST AT A GLANCE Those in it: Walden W. Shaw company, Owen H. Fay company, Trout Trolley company and Auto-Taxicab company. All chauffeurs employed by members of the trust are not members of labor unions. PRESENT RATES First mile, one or four passengers... 60 cents First half mile, one or four passengers... 40 cents PROPOSED RATES First half mile, one passenger... 50 cents Each additional passenger... 20 cents Each piece of baggage... 20 cents Each additional quarter mile, per passenger, after the first half mile traveled... 20 cents REASON FOR THE CHANGE Cost of taxicab stand privilege, alleged to be per year: Sherman House... $15,000 La Salle Hotel... 13,000 Congress Hotel Annex... 10,000 Blackstone Hotel... 7,500 The "Independent" taxicab companies employing union men have no show to get stands at hotels of the above class, but do not have the heavy burden on their earnings entailed by such contracts. MAN AT THE WHEEL Alderman John Powers, Democrat, Nineteenth ward, holder of stock in the Walden Shaw company, and value of holding placed at $50,000. Union chauffeurs are fighting against the proposed increase in taxicab rates which is expected to come before the city council Wednesday night, May 31. The subcommittee which has recommended the increased rates is part of the committee on judiciary and is composed of Alderman Powers of the Nineteenth ward, Alderman Mahoney and Alderman Murray. Aids Taxi Trust Union chauffeurs appeared before the subcommittee to oppose the increased rates as favoring the taxicab trust which, under the lead of Frederick Job of the Chicago Employers' association, has been fighting the union. The subcommittee turned a deaf ear to the plea of the delegation from the union. The union men assert that were it not for the excessively burdensome contracts which the taxicab trust companies have with the hotels there would be no need for an increase in rates. They assert that the hotels should be public stands and that the taxicabs should be loaded in rotation, that is, in the order of their nearness to the hotel entrance. This they assert would give everyone a chance. How They Divide The Shaw company has the Blackstone hotel, the La Salle hotel, the Sherman House and the College Inn. The Fay company has the Union League club, the Stratford, the Congress Hotel Annex, the Palmer House and the Great Northern. The Auto-Taxicab company mainly has restaurant business and the Trout company has the other "good stands." The union chauffeurs see a dissolution of the trust, a breaking of the contracts referred to and a chance to unionize the companies if the new rates are not put into effect. Present Rates Ample They assert that under the present rates of fare it costs $9.70 for all expenses to operate a taxicab 100 miles and that the income for that distance is $40.50. They assert that under normal conditions the present rates are ample. John Powers, who admits owning stock in the Shaw company, will lead in the fight for increased rates.

CIGAR WORKERS TO SELL SPECIAL

Striking cigar makers, fighting against the insanitary conditions and the low wages paid by the Havana-American auxiliary to the cigar trust at Desplaines street and Washington boulevard will become newsies Saturday and sell copies of a special edition of the Daily Socialist to add funds to their strike treasury. Girls, who number nearly 40 per cent of the strikers, will start out Saturday noon from the headquarters of the strike committee at West's hall, Desplaines and Lake streets, and will spread to all parts of the city to sell papers. The issue will contain a full review of the strike and a story of the case against Morris Isenson, who will be tried in Judge Blake's court Friday for daring to circulate copies of a dodger telling how the United Cigar Stores are connected with the strike in selling the La Preferencia cigar. DECLARES WALSH IS NOT IN BAD HEALTH By United Press. Leavenworth, Kan., May 25.—That John R. Walsh, Chicago bank wrecker, whose application for a pardon was turned down yesterday by President Taft, is in critical condition, as declared by his son in Chicago, is denied here today by Major McClaughry, warden of the federal prison here. "Mr. Walsh is as well as he has been at any time since he entered the prison," he said. "His general health is fairly good."

You Can't Squeak to Work Without Coughing Up to Winslow.

(Editor's Note.—This is the first of three articles telling how you settle with one trust every time you put on your shoes.) BY W. G. SHEPHERD Boston, May 25.—Whenever you buy a new pair of shoes for yourself or your wife or your children, stop a minute to think of Sidney W. Winslow, a white-haired, steady-eyed, club-haunting resident of Boston. If it were not for his gigantic shoe machinery trust the dealer would be able to sell you shoes 10 to 50 cents less. Winslow Gets the Coin Ninety-nine out of every 100 American citizens have to pay Winslow cold coin for allowing them to wear his shoes. More pennies rattle in the pocket of the Winslow trust every time a baby coos with delight at a new pair of shoes. How did Winslow build up this pocket-picking machine? It's a story that makes the American people look foolish. The representatives of Massachusetts in congress are trying to pass a law intended to crack Winslow's trust across the knuckles and to make it let go of the American people. Trust Grows Tremendously But the result is doubtful, even if the law passes. Four years ago, after a desperate fight, the governor of Massachusetts signed a similar state law. But it didn't work. Winslow's $50,000,000 trust has grown tremendously in power since Massachusetts tried to stop it. Winslow and his associates have taken desperate measures to build up their gigantic business leech. They are willing to resort to desperate measures to keep it alive. In their line they have done bold, hardy, merciless things, commercially. Winslow once faced Henry H. Rogers, the Standard Oil magnate, in Rogers' lair at 26 Broadway. "I laughed in Rogers' face when the latter said to him: Says He'll Own It "No, I won't come into your trust. But I'll own it before long." But Rogers never did own it. He tried desperately, but he never made a dent in it. Standard Oil men looked Winslow over and lost heart. The plum was fine—that of taking tribute for every pair of shoes worn by the American public—but Winslow wasn't a man who could be fought with success, even by Standard Oilers. Men who know say that if Winslow's business had been one that dealt directly with the public, like Standard Oil, Winslow would be as well known for smartness, shrewdness and heartlessness as John D. Rockefeller. How did Winslow build his shoe machinery trust that adds nothing to the real wealth of the country, but takes toll from us all? Here's the story. Time of No Machines Sixty years ago there were no machine-made shoes. Then young Lyman R. Blake, in the early '50s, devised a

"Burns" and "Perkins" Private Detective Agencies Can't Get Along.

By United Press. Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—Referring to "never fall W. J. Burns and his band of imported bandits," Gilbert Perkins, head of the Perkins Detective Agency, who has filed a petition asking that congress investigate the alleged conspiracy against his company, today issued a statement asserting that following the Strog case at Erie, Pa., a plot was on foot to "plant" a copper-coffin plate in his office here. Perkins Can't Understand "I do not understand the attitude of Postoffice Inspector G. V. Craighead," said Perkins, "in his eagerness to display malice as he has done against the Perkins agency. His persecution of this agency is uncalled for, as he publicly announced before going to Philadelphia in the Franklin case that he was going with four men to hand it to old man Perkins." Perkins alleges that Craighead is affiliated with the Burns agency and that attempts were made to "close up" the Perkins agency when their offices were raided here. Burns Played False "The raiding of the offices," said Perkins, "was due to false and unsupported statements made to the authorities by Burns." By United Press. Los Angeles, Cal., May 25.—Bert Conners, arrested on the charge of attempting to dynamite the Hall of Records here last September, was taken before the grand jury again today. Despite statements by Chief of Detectives Browne that Conners has confessed, no one has been found who will confirm this except District Attorney Fredricks. "No Confession" That Conners could not have participated personally in the Times explosion is proved by the fact that he was in jail here from Sept. 9 to Oct. 28. The Times was wrecked Oct. 1. The fact that Conners and Parks were six hours before the grand jury yesterday tends labor leaders to believe there has been no confession by either.

JACKSON PLANS SUBWAY LOOP ON ONE LEVEL

Arnold's Double-Deck Plan Not Favored by Rival Engineer.

THE SUBWAY PROBLEM SO FAR WORKED OUT ARNOLD PLAN Double-deck subway for high-speed traffic traveling on through routes. Loop congestion to be first taken care of and system then continued gradually over city. No grade crossings for cars throughout entire system. Cost of first portion, to a belated present loop, $21,250,000. JACKSON PLAN Single-deck subway, series of loops, with no through routes planned for. Through routes possible, however, with grade crossings and connecting switches. First step cares for loop surface congestion, altering lines of present loop. Gradual development over entire city, later program. First section to deal with loop congestion to cost $2,600,000 per mile. First step to be eight miles of subway, cost, $20,800,000. NEXT MEETING OF COMMITTEE Wednesday afternoon, May 31, at 2 o'clock. George W. Jackson, subway engineer and builder of numerous tunnels, appearing before the city council committee on local transportation, submitted plans for single deck subways which would bring cars to the present loop district, somewhat enlarged, and loop them back, north, south and west. Congest on State Street His plans, which did not contemplate through routes, were, however, so connected that through routes could be operated. If such were done, nearly all the cars would pass down a subway on State street. Jackson explained that it is his idea that the greatest crowds desire to reach State street, between Randolph and a Vn Buren streets. There was nothing in the Jackson plans to show that the same street car congestion existing on surface lines on the loop would not be present in his subway system. It was his idea, if through routing were practiced, to have west-bound cars turn on to north or south bound tracks for a few blocks while traveling over his series of downtown connecting loops. In a similar way, north and south bound cars would turn onto west-bound tracks for a short distance. Two Grade Crossings Thus a continuous stream of cars would be in operation on north, south and west bound tracks, while there would be two right-angle grade crossings in his subway system. Jackson's plans do not interfere with the sub-sidewalk space which is used by the State street stores. Jackson made a great point of this. The Arnold plans would fill the street from building line to building, taking up the sub-sidewalk space. The Jackson Plan Jackson's plans contemplate a subway which shall be twenty-four feet deep. A five-foot gallery for water-mains and gas mains and other public utilities is provided for above the car subway. Below this gallery is the street car subway. The construction

GET READY FOR FIRST ROUND IN BIG BATTLE

Berger Prepares to Expose the Kidnaping of John J. McNamara.

WHAT THE LABOR AND SOCIALIST PRESS SAY ABOUT THE KIDNAPING THE CITIZEN, CLEVELAND, O. Harriman is not only a keen analyst, a master of economics who reasons from cause to effect, but a brilliant orator, as those who were fortunate enough to hear him at the St. Louis convention of the A. F. of L. last November will testify. He is confident that the Times explosion was caused by gas, and that whatever evidence Burns and those behind him possess has been manufactured or at worst is circumstantial. INDUSTRIAL BANNER, LABOR PAPER, FEB, LONDON, ONT., CAN. The arrest of John McNamara, international secretary of the Structural Iron Workers of America, has startled the whole civilized world, and the trial to follow in Los Angeles will be one of the greatest legal battles in American history. THE TRIBUNE, LABOR PAPER, CHICAGO RAPIDS, IOWA. From what the Tribune knows of the matter in question we are forced to believe that the Los Angeles Times was destroyed by an explosion of gas. Experts on high explosives have testified and the photographs of the wrecked buildings bear mute witness to their theories, which go to show that dynamite does not act in the manner or leave the evidence of the wreck as found. BERGER GETS READY Berger has made an exhaustive investigation of the principal charges against the Indiana officials. He is at present preparing a statement to submit to the Rules Committee. He has received a great deal of assistance in this work from President Ryan and Attorney Rappaport of the Structural Iron Workers' Union, who recently spent a few days here. It is advisable not to let up in the sending of letters and resolutions to protest against the kidnaping outrage to members of congress. Again we say, "Let the protest cease only when favorable action is taken by congress." RESOLUTION RECEIVED The following pertinent resolution has been received by Berger, endorsed by the Chicago Federation of Labor, the Woman's Trade Union League of Illinois and the Chicago Commercial Telegraphers' Union: "Whereas, A labor union official was recently deprived of the safeguards provided in the fundamental law to an extent which seems to justify 'kidnaping' as a name for the procedure, and the papers of the union concerned were procured by means not easily distinguishable from burglary, and Otto Tilden Case "Whereas, These contracts once again emphasize the existence in these United States of 'poor men's law' and 'rich men's law, therefore be it Resolved, That we respectfully petition the congress of the United States and the legislature of the state of Illinois to define by legal enactment the amount of wealth necessary to exempt citizens from the operations of 'poor men's laws.'" IS IT ANY WONDER? When staid and conservative labor organizations adopt resolutions such as the above, is it then any wonder that the all-powerful Committee on Rules has shown its willingness to consider the Berger resolution? Let labor put on its fighting clothes and it will control congress, the courts, everything. VERDICT AGAINST ARMBOLD By United Press. New Bedford, Mass., May 25.—A verdict of $6,100 was returned today against John F. Archbold, son of the millionaire Standard Oil magnate, John D. Archbold, by the Superior court in the suit brought to recover $13,000 damages for causing the death of seven-year-old Guilherme de Melo, daughter of William de Melo, of this city, by Archbold's automobile in Mattapoisett in 1909. TWO-YEAR STRIKE TO END Halifax, N. GET READY FOR FIRST ROUND IN BIG BATTLE

Berger Prepares to Expose the Kidnaping of John J. McNamara.

By United Press. Mexico, May 25.—Francisco Madero, Jr., has taken a smash at the American trusts. "It was stated today that a man representing Wall Street interests yesterday afternoon asked an audience with the provisional president in his office in the customs house here. Would Finance Campaign He offered to finance Madero's presidential campaign and to pay part of the expenses of the present revolution if Madero would promise his interests privileges and concessions. "I represent the people of Mexico," Madero replied. "They have been ground down by monopoly and privilege. That is what all this fighting is about. Do you suppose I'm going to permit it to continue? We do not want your money." Francisco Madero, Sr., discussing this incident today, said: "Some mongered interests that have monopolies in the United States are trying to get on the Madero band wagon, hoping, with their money, to control our government. Won't Tell Name "I won't tell the name of the man who offered money to my son in return for concessions, but he represented a couple of men who have interests in Cincinnati, Chicago, Pittsburg and New York. "I talked with the man myself, and my son replied to him that we had refused aid, and we could continue to do so, because we intended not only to drive the monopolies out of Mexico, but also to prevent the rise of any more trusts. "Would you say that the offer came from Wall Street interests?" Madero was asked. "Yes," he replied. Confusion in Mexico City It is apparent that utter confusion exists in Mexico City. Many high government officials, formerly loyal to Diaz, have been successively telegraphing Madero for the past four days asking for orders, and thus hoping to gain his favor. The power of Madero over the Diaz government is clearly shown by the fact that when a treaty of Guadalajara complained to him that federal soldiers had killed sixty persons, who were celebrating an insurrecto victory, Madero instantly wired Diaz. He demanded the immediate removal of the governor of that state and received a favorable answer from Diaz. Will Quit Today? Mexico City, May 25.—It is declared that Porfirio Diaz will positively resign as president of Mexico today. The state of his health, which is serious, and the peril of anarchy over the republic, prepared by a riotous demonstration in the streets of the capital, have caused the aged executive to decide to retire immediately. From Diaz's closest assistants this was learned today to be his determination. After an almost sleepless night, the president found matters growing dark about the national palace and public buildings this morning, clamoring for his resignation. With twenty-five already dead in rioting and the populace arrayed against soldiers around Diaz's palace, revolutionary leaders today sent a courier to General Figueroa, the rebel leader, calling on him to capture the capital, Gen. Diaz and prevent the looting that they predicted would follow the mob outbreaks. Figueroa is now encamped at Cuernavaca, forty miles away.

TACKLE FIRE LOSS IN MINES

Catastrophes Could Be Prevented, Declares U. S. Mine Engineer.

New York, May 25.—Failure to appreciate the seriousness of mine fires and lack of adequate fire protection have led to the loss of hundreds of lives and the destruction of millions of dollars' worth of property in the last few years, according to a statement made at the annual meeting of the National Protection Association today by Robert M. Wilson, chief engineer of federal bureau of mines.

Cherry Holocaust Cited

Wilson went further and declared two of the most serious disasters of the last two years, one on Cherry Hill, in which 252 lives were lost, and the other at the Pancoast mine near Scranton, Pa., in which 407 lives were lost.

Fires Now Baging

As the loss of life, fires have caused much in money. At Deadwood, S. D., $1,000,000 has been spent in fighting a fire in a metal mine. Today fires are raging in coal mines and metal mines in various parts of the country. Some have gotten beyond control, having been burning for many years, having burned hundreds of thousands of tons of coal and miles of mine galleries.

Pleads Fire-Proof Material

The mining engineers of the bureau have made a careful study of fires in mines, and have reached the conclusion that the introduction of paraffine-impregnated fire-fighting blankets, the adoption of proper regulations and the institution of a reliable system of fire drills may minimize and confine others to a brief period of time with little damage to property.

The Ruppert Method of shoe selling has justly received the unanimous endorsement of a large per cent of the shoe buying public, because purchasers are enabled by our single price system to see for themselves exactly what they are getting when making a selection.

This System

is rigidly enforced in the Ruppert shops, and no deviation under any circumstances is made from the stamped-in-Price of all Ruppert shoes. This method prevents the public from being imposed upon by ignorant or unscrupulous salesmen who might otherwise add to the selling price of your selection, thereby making you pay for something you do not get.

See the Price for yourself stamped on the sole of every Ruppert shoe —examine the quality of leather, workmanship, and finish—then look around and see if it is possible anywhere to duplicate the Ruppert price.

"All is fair in love and war," but not so in merchandising, and we believe the public should be treated with that consideration which it accords the merchant who gives honest goods at an honest price.

SUCCESSFUL in defeating the city election at West Hammond, and in having former City Clerk Martin Fineran indicted by the Cook County grand jury, Miss Virginia Brooks, girl reformer, has called a mass meeting of citizens for Sunday night, having unscrupled, she says, another illegality which, she says, will save the village thousands of dollars.

DOMESTIC

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Dr. Lew Chee, who graduated a few days ago from the University Medical college here, will marry Elizabeth Wood, 18 years old, daughter of a contractor. Dr. Chee and his bride will go to China, where the physician will practice his profession.

DENVER, Colo.—Charles S. Von Phul, the St. Louis ballplayer, who is here preparatory to making a long flight, was shot three times in a quarrel over a chorus girl in the barroom of the Brown hotel by H. F. Hogwood of New York. G. E. Copelin, a mining man, and J. W. Atkinson of Denver were wounded by stray bullets. Von Phul probably will die.

PITTSBURG, Pa.—Great alarm has been caused over the discovery of a Chinese leper. An organized effort is being made by citizens to have the leper killed at once. A petition will be circulated asking that the director of public health devise some means of easy death. Great alarm is felt lest the disease spread.

PITTSBURG, Pa.—The cases of the commonwealth against present and former members of council, indicted as a result of the councilman's graft investigation, seem to be in a state of collapse, as a result of the apparently faulty memories of witnesses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—A number of America newspaper men, headed by B. Wilfrid Fleisher, sailed for Shanghai, where they will establish the China News, a daily newspaper to be published in both English and Chinese. It will be the first English paper to cater to the general Chinese public.

NEW YORK.—John F. Egan, an employee of the postoffice department, is suing Leon K. Belcher, member of a large silk manufacturing concern, in the Supreme court for $20,000 for alleged alienation of his wife's affections. Egan testified to having traced the silk manufacturer and his wife to a hotel in Sixth avenue in March, 1909, where, he said, he found them in a room together.

SEATTLE, Wash.—J. W. Sneed of Chicago and his four children arrived from Shanghai on the Tamba Maru, from which Mrs. Sneed was drowned early on the morning of May 1. Mrs. Sneed left her stateroom soon after midnight, complaining that the air was oppressive and was never seen again.

NEW YORK.—"I don't know anything about the steel business now," said Andrew Carnegie just before he called for his annual summer outing in Scotland. "The Stanley committee at Washington has asked me to testify, and I have told them that I shall be glad to, but I don't know what they will ask me, or how I shall answer them."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Fifty additional postal depositories were named.

PITTSBURG, Kan.—When Mrs. Anna Catherine Sharp of Oakland, Cal., stepped from a train here she was met by Peter C. Sharp, from whom she has been separated since the Chicago fire in October, 1871. His present wife, Mrs. Louisa Sharp, was at the depot with him. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp took Mrs. Anna's first wife to her home, and Sharp declares that the three will make a happy family.

INGOLSTADT, Bavaria.—An officer of the garrison here had a thrilling ride today when a military captive balloon broke loose from its anchorage. The officer was a novice at ballooning and was unable to manipulate the gas valve. Finally, when the balloon had reached a height of 15,000 feet, the officer clambered to the top of the gas bag and succeeded in wrenching open the valve and reaching the ground without injury.

BUSINESS

MRS. HETTY GREEN of New York, the richest woman in the world, yesterday sold for upwards of a million dollars a tract of Chicago real estate which she obtained in 1877 under foreclosure proceedings for $195,517.70. The tract consists of 480 acres in the southwestern sections of this city in the Gage park neighborhood. This deal is said to be the forerunner of others affecting the $10,000,000 holdings of Mrs. Green of Chicago real estate.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers, which control 85 per cent of the knit underwear manufactured in this country, unanimously adopted a resolution which, according to officers of the association, will result in a shutting down of their mills on an average of four months in each year.

JACKSON PLANS SUBWAY LOOP

within the car subway is of structural steel and concrete. It provides for a continuous passenger walk throughout its entire system. Jackson's system, as already stated, is not a through route, but a loop system. As presented by him, it consisted of eight routes.

Detailed description of a few of these will make his idea plain. Route 1.—Wabash avenue line; beginning at Wabash avenue and 12th street, double track to a court just north of Congress street to Michigan avenue, Michigan avenue north to Randolph street, west on Randolph street to State, south on State to Washington street, east on Washington street to Wabash avenue, south on Wabash avenue to 13th street.

Route No. 2.—State street: From Polk and State streets double track north to Jackson boulevard, single track east on Jackson to Wabash avenue, north to Washington street, west on Washington street, south on State street to Polk. Route No. 2 forms a double track for the subway route No. 1 when route No. 2 turns onto Wabash avenue.

PUBLIC IN ONSLAUGHT AS RIVERVIEW OPENS SEASON

Riverview began its season last night with the biggest opening crowd in the history of the park. It is estimated that the attendance was nearly 100,000, and all hungry for amusement. At some of the rides the crowds were so great that the patrons had to stand in line from fifteen to twenty minutes waiting for an opportunity to buy tickets.

The "speediplane" is the name of the newest "thriller." It is well named. "Onap" is going to be one of the sensations of the summer. They say this is a Hindu mystery. Whatever it is, everybody who saw it is wondering how a big plane floats in space, while the pilot, blindfolded and seated on a piano bench, follows the instrument, pounding out the latest rag-time and oldest classics.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO HAVE DANCE

Big Festival to Be Held Saturday Night, May 27.

On Saturday evening, May 27, the hall of the Young People's Socialist League will resound with the strains of music and the laughter and merriment of Chicago's young Socialists, this being the occasion of the anniversary of the Young People's Socialist League's birth-day. It will be celebrated by a May party and festival.

Capitalism's "Measure of a Man," "the currency of the realm," will be taboed, and the only charge for admission and refreshments will be a smiling face and an optimistic shake of the hand. As this affair is the annual reunion of all members, new and old, word has been received from league members out of town that they are speeding to Chicago to be on hand for the big time Saturday night.

During the past fall and winter the program of debates and lectures conducted by the league has been one of the most successful in Chicago. Men and women of prominence in various walks of life have been secured to deliver talks and lectures on topics of vital interest and importance.

As the normal nature of youth craves for pleasure and amusement, the league has provided for the gratification of this desire by conducting dances, entertainments, picnics, excursions, banquets and parties of various kinds at frequent intervals.

In looking back over its Chicago life it must be stated that the exhibit has done an enormous amount of good which in time will crowd out its initial, and perhaps inevitable, disabilities and shortcomings.

Without reverting again to details it can be stated as an indisputable fact that this exhibit has jarred the social conscience of our money-mad, wind-swept, soot-infested city. It has done that, and more.

And I know it has stirred up many people who were not stirred up before, but needed a stirring up, and who will stay stirred up. Sufficient of the facts and conditions shown were gruesome enough to cause a moral awakening.

For this much, thanks to the initiators. They worked for better things than they knew. The exhibit has indisputably shown that along certain lines child-life has taken an upward turn and that much has been accomplished along those lines during the ten years past.

They are a promise of future better things. Though my glimpses into this exhibit were from an individual viewpoint, or particular bias of mind, no one can deny that they laid bare by means of the individual exhibits the sore-infested carcass of our rotten so-called civilization.

It's weakest spots have been exhibited under the glare of publicity, showing the absolutely horrible economic conditions affecting the life of the infant at home, the street life of the slum child, the physical neglect of school children, the slaughter of child-slaves in gainful occupations and the moral and intellectual of the half-grown boy and girl.

How to Cure Evils To effect a cure of evils we must know their cause. This exhibit has shown, wittingly or unwittingly, more or less openly. It must have convinced even the superficial observer that our economic system is wrong. That "there's something rotten in the state of Denmark."

Those who have read between the lines of my daily musings undoubtedly have found more than the surface-analyser.

What will be the immediate result of this eventful exposition? On the one hand, the hurried covering up of many of the sores exposed to view either by official crookedness or by reformational apologists, and on the other hand a still more determined digging for facts to appense and satisfy the awakened conscience of really well-meaning betterment advocates.

Ultimate Result But the ultimate result—and that in the very near future—will be the entire unweaving of the hideous, dying condition of "society" owing to economic evils.

By United Press. Washington, D. C., May 25.—A vigorous opinion, setting forth in stronger language his dissenting views delivered orally from the bench, was filed in the Supreme Court of the United States today by Associate Justice Harlan in the Standard Oil case.

crude machine which would sow the seeds of shoes onto the upper.

The American public, which granted the patent rights on the machinery, has gained little financial benefit. The profit has gone to someone else. Blake was an impractical man. He sold his machine for $2,000 to Gordon McKay of Boston. McKay spent $130,000 in developing the machine and placed it on the market.

McKay thought the machines ought not to be sold, but leased, the shoe manufacturer paying a royalty on every pair of shoes made on the machines.

Many shoe-making machines were invented and put on the market, but McKay did not fight them. He got as much satisfaction out of seeing the shoe-making business progress as he did out of his riches.

He had caused shoes to be made 75 per cent stronger and had reduced the actual cost of labor over 50 cents a pair. Increased strength and reduced cost meant a reduction in the price of shoes, experts figured, of 21 a pair.

By 1870 the McKay machines were in general use and, for the next fifteen years, improvement followed improvement and competition grew until the American public was able to get good shoes at low prices.

LESSON OF THE EXHIBIT: CAUSES AND CONSEQUENCES; OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER

BY WILLIAM KENT

This is the last day of the Child Welfare Exhibit in Chicago.

Though it seemingly goes out of existence today, it will be revived and added to in other cities. It will continue to grow and become a national feature, a perpetual sociological child exposition.

Without reverting again to details it can be stated as an indisputable fact that this exhibit has jarred the social conscience of our money-mad, wind-swept, soot-infested city. It has done that, and more.

And I know it has stirred up many people who were not stirred up before, but needed a stirring up, and who will stay stirred up. Sufficient of the facts and conditions shown were gruesome enough to cause a moral awakening.

By United Press. San Sebastian, Spain, May 25.—Attacked by a giant eagle while sailing along on the last leg of his flight in the Paris-Madrid aeroplane race, M. Gilbert was in grave danger for several minutes today. The bird swooped down on the aviator, apparently believing that the electric monoplane was some fantastic sort of winged creature which threatened his supremacy as king of the air.

THIS IS LAST DAY OF EXHIBIT

It Has Been Declared to Be Big Success in Every Way.

WHAT IS DOING THE LAST DAY AT CHLD EXHIBIT

AFTERNOON 2 o'clock—Play festival, conducted by the Playground Association of Chicago. The program will be elaborate.

EVENING 7:15 o'clock—Masque of the seasons, by the children from Hull House. 8:30 o'clock—"Lessons From the Exhibit as to the Next Step" will be discussed and the exhibit will close.

The Child Welfare Exhibit, after breaking all records for attendance at such an event, will close tonight. Fifty-two thousand, four hundred and forty-four saw it yesterday. The exhibit will be given later in many other cities and local exhibits from those places will be added.

Most Graphic Exhibit The exhibit has been pronounced a great success. The Chicago health department — the most graphic exhibit.

It consists of a revolving pillar on which are fastened dolls. Above the heads of the dolls a figure of death is poised. One hand holds a scythe. It has been figured out that a baby dies in Chicago about every four minutes, computing the infant death rate and the number of minutes in a year. Every four minutes the scythe falls and a doll drops from the revolving pillar.
