L. D. Gillison, former business manager of the Pioneer, is now being managed by the Oklahoma City Times. We have known, Comstock's office for quite awhile and have never seen him practicing a speech without an axe. He resigned from the Pioneer because that job paid for a campaign of the left and about against the Industrial Democrat.

Charles A. D. Martin, a state socialist and an Oklahoma Pioneer, has been elected to the House of Representatives, this city, July 29th, Comrade Martin was practically unknown in the democratic organization, but he was elected through the aid of the party which he was elected through.
