

N. E. WORKINGMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

According to adjournment, the New England Workingmen's Association met in Convention at the City Hall, Boston, on Monday at 1-15 past 9 o'clock—called to order by W. F. Young, Secretary pro tem of the last Convention. The President being absent J. B. Leavitt, of Lowell, was chosen pro tem.

Members were in attendance from Lynn, Woburn, Manchester, N. H., East Bridgewater, and several other places. Mr. Brown, of Lynn, a committee consisting of John Sawtell of Lynn, W. H. Wignin of Manchester, N. H., W. Brown of Lynn, W. D. Leavitt of Woburn, was chosen to draft resolutions for the consideration of the Convention. Voted to add John Malley of Lynn, and W. F. Young of Lowell. Mr. Brown of Lynn, addressed the Convention on the importance of renewed union and better relations between the working people.

The President made some interesting remarks upon the same subject, and pointed out the necessity of more union among the New England Laborers, and believed the day had already come, when they should combine and assert their rights, as men and philanthropists. After remarks from several, upon the general character of the workingmen's cause and its progress and future prospects, the Convention adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION. The Committee reported the following, which were laid over from the last meeting for the action of this Convention: Resolved, That there is little and not a certain power in the present grasping, selfish and monopolizing institutions of society, to develop the virtues and to give to the people the happiness of the people; that on the contrary, while the social and political institutions remain as they are, there is an absolute certainty of a constant and increasing increase of misery, oppression and unjust, destined for them to suffer.

Resolved, That the first inherent right of man is the right of association, and that the relation of the parent to the child is the prototype of the true relation that exists between the government and the individual; and that the relation ought to be established and practically adopted as the basis of all law and government.

Resolved, That in the judgment of this Convention, a resort to the Polls is the only practical and effectual measure which the Workingmen can at present adopt for the defence of their rights.

Resolved, That the reduction of the hours of labor is an important step towards the alleviation and advancement of the laboring classes, and that we will work manfully to secure the same.

Resolved, That we earnestly call upon the friends of the workingmen of England, and all friends to their moral, social, and political rights, to organize themselves into associations, for the purpose of more effectually exerting their power on the great and good cause in which we are engaged and restoring to humanity those "inalienable rights" which have been so long and so grossly violated.

Resolved, That as Associations, and workingmen in particular, are the ones most interested in the improvement of their own condition as workingmen, to sustain them by our presence.

NATIONAL REFORM MEETING

FRANK EVANS, Sec'y. The Association met according to adjournment, President Graves in the chair. After a few remarks from the president it was moved that we choose six delegates from this association to represent us at the convention of workmen to be held at Lowell on Wednesday next, Oct. 29th.

After some spirited remarks from Mr. Brown, of a heart-aching freedom, and the health of humanity, and their duty to themselves, their equality, and God, the motion was adopted, and the following gentlemen were chosen: Mr. Chenoweth, E. C. Darlin, John Malley, N. W. Brown, Mr. Flemming, and John Gibson. Adjourned to Saturday evening.

SEVENTH EVENING, OCT. 25. The association met according to adjournment, the president in the chair. On motion, it was voted to instruct our delegates to invite the said convention at Lowell to meet at Lynn at their next meeting.

Resolved, That our delegates be instructed to vote for political action.

The following resolves were offered, and after some eloquent and touching remarks upon the situation of our brethren in the state of New York who have been called to pass through their fiery ordeal to establish truth, justice, and righteousness.

Resolved, That every man has certain natural and inalienable rights, of which he cannot be deprived by his fellow men, and for the very good reason that he did not receive them from his fellow men, but at the hands of his Creator.

Resolved, That the common property of man or body of men has any right to more than enough for their subsistence.

Resolved, That we deplore the death of the innocent, and the death of the guilty, yet in the language of Jefferson, when the wrongs under which they suffer, cannot be longer borne.

OUR COURSE

It has been said that we do not intend to be operative to introduce the new system, since the operatives have retired from the old terms. Certainly not, we think we should even hesitate one moment. True it has been proven, as we feared from the first, that the rich Manufacturers in this great country of ours, can afford to be operative to work under the new system, or, at least, as it is called, the new system, or, at least, as it is called, the new system.

ROBERT OWEN'S WOMEN'S CONVENTION

The following is the closing remarks of Mr. Owen, at the late Convention in New York, together with the substance of his plan of operations by which to accomplish his proposed reform of the present social system. Mr. O. observed that:

He called this Convention together to ascertain if there were any practical men in all that country, who would be forward and submit their respective plans for applying the enormous powers of industry for the benefit of society; but he has not heard any plan of that character; yet, it was to solve the problem of how was this to be effected, that the Convention was called.

But the solving of this question requires time, attention and knowledge, which is not to be obtained in a few days or weeks. I don't say it is an impossible matter, but that has been laid before the Convention, and that has been found to be the case.
